American Makes Strong Appeal for Peace as Turks Are Presented Treaty

TURKEY MUST BE REASONABLE

Address by Richard Washburn Child Makes Deep Impression at Lausanne

Treaty Drawn Up by Allied Powers Formally Presented to Turks

LAUSANNE, Jan. 31.—(By the Associated Press)—Richard Washburn Child, chief American spokesman, made a strong appeal for peace before the Near East conference today on the occasion of the formal presentation to the Turks of the treaty drawn up by the allied powers.

Turkey must be reasonable, declared Mr. Child, if she was to have the peace and co-operation she required. His address made a deep impression upon the conference.

The United States was represented at Lausanne for three purposes, he said.

First, to protect American interests, idealistic or commercial, humane or financial; without discrimination; second, to protect, whenever possible, humanitarian interests, regardless of nationality; and third, to serve in all appropriate ways the cause of peace.

The Americans, he asserted, sought no special privileges or favor. They had declared for the open door in the Near East.

"Our declarations and the spirit of assent given by the allied nations in the words of the chief delegates of Great Britain and France," he added, "constitute an accord, creating, we hope, a new understanding and a new regime of international relationships in the Near East."

LAWYER FLEECE BY SMART CROOK

Should the name of Henry D. Booth, alias John J. Murray, alias Charles W. Williams, alias W. R. Campbell, alias Charles E. Goodhue, alias Louis Ackley, appear among the "clients" of local lawyers, they had better think twice before volunteering their services.

GOVERNOR WILL ATTEND CARNIVAL

Supt. John W. Kernan of the park department was in telephone communication with Governor Channing Cox today to invite him to attend the Winter Carnival either on Thursday or Friday and received assurance from the chief executive that he will make every effort to stretch a point and make the trip.

"I think a day of rest may do me good," said Governor Cox, "and I promise you I will arrange my business so as to go to Lowell if it is possible."

The governor is an ardent supporter of outdoor winter sports and in advance wished the Lowell carnival every measure of success.

BRITAIN ACCEPTS AMERICAN OFFER

Agrees to Accept Plan in Regard to Funding of British War Debt

Sir Roderick Jones Says Britain's Honor and Self Respect Demand Payment

LONDON, Jan. 31.—(By the Associated Press)—Great Britain has decided to accept the American offer in regard to the funding of the British war debt to the United States.

Only Honorable Course
LONDON, Jan. 31.—The Times today prints a letter from Sir Roderick Jones, prominent in the newspaper world, as chairman of Deane's Ltd., on the subject of the British debt in which Sir Roderick says:

"Our place among the nations, our honor, our self-respect, our good name—these require that we pay our debts like men. We are not mendicants or bankrupts. We must not allow any argument, whatever its material or pretended moral foundation, to induce us to imitate the whimper of the one or the shifts of the other. Our duty is plain—to pay America, to pay promptly and with dignity."

$300,000 LOSS AT CLINTON FIRE

Fire Destroys Clinton House Block and Part of Doggett Block Adjoining

Firemen Aided by Corporation Brigades and Out-of-Town Apparatus

CLINTON, Jan. 31.—A loss estimated at $300,000 resulted from a fire in the business district today which destroyed the Clinton House block at High and Church streets and a large part of the Doggett block adjoining on High street. The fire started from an undetermined cause in a shoe store in the Clinton House block, formerly a hotel, but recently occupied by stores and flats.

The local fire department, aided by several corporation fire brigades, put up a hard fight against the flames and a fire truck which made the nine-mile run over the road from Leominster in 25 minutes assisted in getting the fire under control. Apparatus sent from Worcester did not arrive until the fight was won.

Occupants of tenements in the Doggett block and another nearby building had plenty of time to dress and reach the street before flames or smoke approached their quarters. The presence of snow and ice on the roofs of other buildings helped to prevent a further spread of the flames.

The Clinton House block was razed and everything above the second floor of the Doggett block, a six-story brick structure, was ruined, while stores below suffered heavy water and smoke damage.

$300,000 Fire at Oakland, Me.
OAKLAND, Me., Jan. 31.—Fire here early today damaged a frame structure with an aggregate loss in excess of $300,000.

MUST LEAVE OR BECOME CORPSE

Threatening Letter Received by Robert L. Dade, Mayor of Mer Rouge

MONROE, La., Jan. 31.—Federal authorities probably will be asked to take some action in connection with the receipt of a threatening letter by Robert L. Dade, mayor of Mer Rouge, in which the mayor was warned to leave town within 10 days or "become a corpse."

The communication, dated Jan. 28, Continued to Page Seven

NO INCREASE FOR TEACHERS

Board Defeats Motion to Increase Pay of Elementary Grade Teachers

Mayor Says City Cannot Afford to Shoulder More Financial Responsibilities

If the Lowell school committee maintains a policy adhered to at its meeting last night, there will be no salary increases voted to teachers this year.

Information as to the feeling of the committee on this vitally important question resulted from discussion that followed an attempt on the part of Mr. Bruhn to secure an advance of $100 per year for all elementary grade teachers, including kindergarten principles. Mayor Donovan set the ball of opposition rolling when he said the city could not afford to shoulder any more annual responsibilities this year, and further opposition was voiced by every other member except Mr. Bruhn, who fought for it, saying the salary schedule of grade teachers is too low and finally forced the matter to a roll call vote, where it was defeated, with the mayor and Dr. Slaughter voting "no" and Mr. Delaney, Mr. Mullin, Mrs. Pearson and Continued to Page Four

MUST ISSUE MILEAGE BOOKS

Railroads Ordered to Resume Selling of Interchangeable Mileage Books

Sale of Books Must Begin March 15, Says Interstate Commerce Commission

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Railroads were ordered today by the interstate commerce commission to resume the practice of selling interchangeable books good for 2500 miles of travel at reductions of 20 per cent. from the regular passenger rates.

Sale of the books must begin March 15, the commission decided. A number of small railroads were excused from the requirements of the order because of their financial inability to meet the reduction. Practically all of the class one roads, however, must establish the reductions.

CITY PAYROLL NOT SO FORMIDABLE

The weekly payroll of city departments ready for approval today, totals $20,363.31, more than $8000 less than last week's and $12,000 below that of the week just previous.

Street maintenance emergency has shrunk from $3337.94 last week to $462.49 this week, and emergency snow removal practically has been cut in half, as shown by the $511.07 roll last week, compared with $459.27 this week.

Budget Board Tackles 1923 Estimates

ROYAL K. DEXTER

The budget and audit commission met to tackle the 1923 departmental estimates this afternoon and will remain in session daily until a budget of its own is established and presented to the mayor. Mayor John J. Donovan joined the commission at its first session and is likely to continue to do so.

It is probable that heads of all major departments, or divisions whose estimates bulk fairly large, will from time to time appear before the commission during its deliberations. Some of these heads have expressed a desire to go over their submitted figures with the commission, while others will be asked to attend sessions at which their departments are being discussed. In this manner the commission will be able to obtain intimate information concerning all items included in the estimates.

Today's session was called for 2:30 o'clock and Chairman Tyler A. Stevens said this noon the plans of procedure were rather indefinite, but probably would resolve into daily sessions, with departments being considered in rotation and information acquired about each before any definite set of figures is decided upon.

As to what policy will be followed, the chairman could not say. He admitted some estimates undoubtedly will be pruned considerably, but until the commission has an opportunity to study them and make comparisons with last year's expenditures, he did not care to make any definite statement.

The commission met today with the largest individual budget—that of the school department—missing. As the school committee will not meet to go over its figures until Thursday evening, the estimates will not be available until Friday morning at the earliest.

As much as budget estimates must be in the hands of the city council on or before March 1, it will be necessary to have them ready by February 20, which is the last regular meeting date of the month.

THEY WANT MORE MONEY

City Solicitor and City Treasurer Ask Substantial Salary Increases

Salary increases of $1500 and $1500, respectively, have been asked this year by City Solicitor Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan and City Treasurer Fred H. Bourke, as shown by estimates from the law and treasurer's departments submitted to the city auditor today.

If granted, Mr. O'Sullivan's salary will jump from $3000 to $4500 and Mr. Bourke's, from $3000 to $4500.

In addition to the provision for this increase for the city solicitor, the law department estimates show provisions

CITY DEPARTMENTS ASK FOR MORE THAN $50,000 WORTH OF NEW MOTOR VEHICLES

More than $50,000 worth of new motor vehicles, including cars of the pleasure type, trucks, fire apparatus, and a number of other vehicles, are being asked for this year by city departments.

Whether they will survive the rigors of a budget commission, mayor and council, and the city council, is another question, but they have been asked for, just the same.

The fire department, costing $38,000, represents the "greater portion" of the total amount and if allowed to stand will completely motorize the department.

The charity department, division of outdoor relief, estimates the cost of a new ambulance at $4000. The engineering department wants a truck at $1500 and a runabout for $600. The park department desires small tractor for pulling out stones and stumps and says one will not cost more than $1500. The chief of the fire department wants a new car, $3000. The Clintonford street hospital has suggested a provision for a machine in its estimates, figured at $1000. The purchasing agent feels a car would save time and money for his department and places its initial cost at $1225, while the buildings department also wants new motor transportation for an amount not definitely stated.

All in all, it looks like a good year for the motor car dealers, providing the estimates are allowed to "ride."

STAGE ALL SET FOR BIG WINTER CARNIVAL AT FORT HILL BEGINNING TOMORROW

All ready for the carnival!
The first winter celebration of the merry outdoor band with all the thrilling northern carnival attractions and many additional joy features on the new and exclusively Lowell's—starts tomorrow on old Fort Hill, where the moonstruck Indian used to scamp the frozen trails.

This 1923 carnival of carnivals, sure to be one of the biggest outdoor events ever conducted for the people in Lowell or vicinity, promises to be a success from start to finish. Healthful sport activities will rule, with toboggan slides, skating, sports on snow and ice, funny skating, battles between merry opposing forces of both sexes, games, boudoirs—all the picturesque scenes that make up an ideal winter carnival—will be found at Fort Hill tomorrow and Friday.

On Friday, the carnival winds up with that much-advertised "Knicker parade" from the bank to the Auditorium on East Merrimack street, scheduled for Friday evening. Here, so far as our expert winter carnival hounds can find out, all Lowell will want to see that parade.

Nothing like that monster "Knicker" parade from the bank to the Auditorium on East Merrimack street, scheduled for Friday evening. Here, so far as our expert winter carnival hounds can find out, all Lowell will want to see that parade.

There will be a costume parade as well as just a crowd of snow revelers, but the variety of gay knickers to be displayed will, it is said, be well worth inspecting. If Lowell's first big winter carnival failed to cause any unusual enthusiasm with the regular list of sports of popular call for carnival attractions of this kind, that "Knicker" parade and later, the "Knicker" ball at the Memorial Auditorium will appeal to everybody.

The "Knicker" supplies in Lowell and vicinity are being fast depleted, our friends in some of the busy marts of trade inform us. The demand for "knickers" has been tremendous. More than one store has had to send away for new supplies of the knee-length costumes for tomorrow and Friday. The fever to climb into early Scotch or Dublin tweed "knickers" and prance in the snow with plenty of good leg and in perfect safety—no safety pins required—is spreading fast. The contagion caught quickly when the stores began to display neat knickers in their big windows. Today they wished they had some to display, for the windows were quickly cleaned out in some cases.

The program for tomorrow—the first day of Lowell's great outdoor carnival—starts at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when Mayor John J. Donovan will start the first toboggan down the long slide with a cargo of Lowell Advertising club members aboard, all decorated with brilliant "knicker" gear. Several hundred of these handsome balloons have been donated by C. H. Willis and will be distributed by H. E. Watson. Next will come a varied program of sports. A style show in the afternoon's calendar, too, with prizes awarded for best winter costumes, for the most chic, the most useful, etc. This style show must be seen by everybody. The "knickers" will be right in line here, too, and the beauty of this display will call for real attention.

Then there will be the motorcycle club, with numerous entrants. The ski-jumping and toboggan slides will be attractive features of the carnival. Among the jumpers entered in the contests are Henry Doyle, Walter Douglas, Edward Douglas, Frank Corcoran, Lee Robbins, Frank Cassidy, Ab

RADIO RACE IS OVER

Now Fans Want Simple Sets That Bring Better Results

After the exciting race for "bigger" radio receiving sets, amateurs of the country are finally settling down to wait for the simplest form of receiver they can buy, which will at the same time bring in a broadcast concert from a reasonable distance.

The race for more tubes, for radio and audio-frequency amplifiers is weakening, instead there has come a steady demand for the simplest form of apparatus that will do the work required. Super-regenerative, super-heterodyne and many other super sets are only subjects of experiment. The added effect they produce does not as yet compensate for the amount of extra parts and extra complications put into them. Radio bugs are tiring with such sets, but the large majority of radio fans—those who want to sit down and enjoy a concert of an evening—don't want to be bothered with such complicated affairs.

Besides, they cost much more money. And that is one reason why crystal sets are coming back into popularity. They are cheaper than the vacuum tube receivers and they receive concerts from broadcasting stations up to 50 miles distant even more clearly than do the tube sets.

And money isn't the only advantage the crystal set has over the other. There's no bother with A and B batteries, with tubes and rheostats and transformers and there is no oscillation which causes squealing and a poor entertainment for the listener.

Radio engineers are working on processes by which they could simplify the receiving set, and already, considerable progress has been made. Radio dealers assure them their final product will have a large market, for purchasers already show the mind of the radio novice is directed toward the use of a simple receiver.

The radio receiver has ended being a plaything and experimental subject and has entered the realm of useful entertainment.

BROADCAST MUSIC IN YOUR POCKET

RADIO FANS CAN BE FORECASTERS

Radio fans can make good weather prophets if they study the action of their receiving sets.

For weather afar off affects the set. For instance, if the receiver is tuned in on a station 500 miles away, and the waves falling in the ether more faintly than ever, it is an indication of low barometric pressure and therefore of a storm or other form of bad weather in the region of the broadcasting station.

Then if the fan tunes in stations nearer and nearer home, he can almost follow the direction and speed of the storm. By simple calculations, the amateur radio fan can become an amateur weather prophet by telling when that storm will reach his city, if it is coming his way.

With practice, the radio listener can startle his guests by such prophecies.

BANK DIRECTORS GUESTS OF MR. WOODWORTH

President Artemus H. Woodworth of the Lowell Co-operative bank was last night host for the bank directors at a delightful complimentary banquet served by the large company at the institution headquarters. The reception arrangements were in charge of Directors Arthur A. Stewart and Charles C. Drew.

Responding to the toast, "The Lowell Co-operative Bank," Director Geo. H. Taylor alluded to the many interesting experiences he had had during his connection with the institution. He said the bank was steadily advancing in growth and activities. In 1920 it ranked twentieth among the 200 banks of the state. In 1922 it ranked ninth. The assets are increasing at the rate of $50,000 to $60,000 per month and at present are about $3,232,000. It is predicted that the bank will reach the four million mark during the present year.

Judge Stanley D. Qua, for 13 years attorney for the bank, had high praise for the institution's splendid record of progress. Director Frank E. Bramhall told witty stories and read a poetic tribute to President Woodworth.

At the brief business meeting, Treasurer Drew presented his quarterly report showing total income, aside from dues and repaid dues, of $45,357.57, from which he recommended that a dividend be declared at the rate of 3 1/2 per cent, leaving $3500 to be added to the surplus and emergency funds. This was unanimously voted.

Those present at last night's meeting included President Artemus H. Woodworth, Vice-President Francis E. Appleton, Treasurer Charles U. Drew, Directors William D. Brown, George H. Taylor, Oliver H. P. Green, Warren F. Sanborn, Adam Cochran, Stephen W. Abbott, John Kerr, Frank E. Bramhall, Benjamin W. Clements, Herbert L. Bishop, Arthur A. Stewart, Arthur Bartlett, Walter H. Dorr, Frank D. Kenney, Francis M. Qua and Norman H. Armour.

MISS CHENEY ADDRESSES EDUCATIONAL CLUB

"What Can We Women Do to Help Our Country in Time of Difficulty?" was the subject of an extended address given yesterday afternoon before the members of the Educational club in the Central M. E. church by Miss Blanche Cheney of the State Normal school faculty. Preceding the lectures, Mrs. H. J. Maguire announced that the committee on the constitution and by-laws had reported progress and that the results would be voted upon by the members of the club.

After covering the history of the unrest and chaos that has followed the World war in many countries of the globe, Miss Cheney declared that while the American democracy is a glorious experiment, "we will always have our problems and it is a good thing to have them." She felt, notwithstanding America's proud position, that we ought not to look upon our own position with rose-colored glasses. She referred to the troubles that affect the industrial situation right here and left, industrial strife in many places, the lack of co-operation between employers and employees in many sections of the land and in many industries.

The speaker referred to industrial democracies and political democracies.

As for the former, she said co-operation and profit-sharing are considered necessary for the working people to have, or something of that kind where the laboring man and woman can have a larger share in the profits of their labor.

"This problem will not come for settlement in our time, but men are thinking and working along this line and it must come," said Miss Cheney. She described various principles that must be adopted in order to secure mutual understanding between the workers and "those with the money driving power."

The speaker denounced child labor, the K.K.K. campaign, illiteracy and the lack of good leaders in civic affairs. Speaking of the so-called welfare bill, Miss Cheney stated that there are today more than 2,000,000 little children working in the cotton mills of the south and canneries of the west, which was a situation that should be remedied and the children allowed the "opportunity of enjoying their God-given rights."

As for the bringing up of little children, the speaker said, in closing:

"To bring about this responsibility, the child must be taught to serve as must the grown-ups. The children love to serve. Train first the child and then you will have later the true American citizenship, able to battle with the many great problems which they in the future will have to face. Two poems on American democracy closed the Cheney address that was thoroughly enjoyed from beginning to end."

What is rheumatism? Pain only. St. Jacobs Oil will stop your pain, so quit drugging.

Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil directly upon the tender spot and relief comes instantly. St. Jacobs Oil is a harmless rheumatism and "static" liniment which never discolors and can not burn the skin.

Remember! Quit complaining! Get a small bottle from your druggist and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic and sciatic pain, soreness, stiffness and swelling. Don't suffer! Better wait for you. Old, honest St. Jacobs Oil has cured millions of rheumatism sufferers in the last half century and is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains and swellings.—Adv.

Antiseptic, Pleasant, Soothing

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK AND BEAUTIFUL

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Weyb's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does not so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Adv.

WHEN KIDNEYS HURT DRINK MORE WATER

If Your Back Aches or Bladder
Bothers, Take a Little Salts

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative system clogs and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health. When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, drink more water. Take a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may thank you. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; it neutralizes the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders. Kid Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv.

yesterday and blew up the front part before leaving. Soon after the destruction of Sir Horace's house became known, word was received here that the coast guard station at Balbriggan was destroyed early this morning by raiders who set off three powerful land mines. This terrific explosion shattered the windows of nearby houses and the inhabitants fled from their homes in terror. Telephone and telegraph wires were cut before the mines were exploded.

Lawyer Fleeced by Crook

According to a message received today at local police headquarters, Booth, who is wanted in New Haven, Conn., for obtaining money under false pretenses and this is how he swindled a New Haven lawyer out of $2500. Under the name of Henry Booth, he visited the Second National bank in New Haven and asked to be introduced to some competent attorney.

He was introduced to the attorney and advised him that he held a note for $2500 against a man named Myron T. Killington, 1606 N. Jackson avenue, Wilmington, Del. He desired the lawyer to collect it. The attorney wrote to the address given and in a few days Booth called and was informed that the check had arrived. After deducting his commission, the lawyer gave him his personal check and both went to the bank where Booth had it cashed. He told the lawyer that he desired to hire a safety box to place the money in. It was soon, as the lawyer supposed, to have placed the money in the box.

The next day the lawyer became suspicious and had one of the officers of the bank communicate with the Union and National bank of Wilmington, Del., on which bank the check was drawn, and was informed that the whole transaction was a fraud; also that the name of the cashier signed to the check was a forgery.

Booth is at present believed to be operating north of Boston and it is for this reason that Lowell lawyers are being warned to be on the lookout. The man in question is described as being about 40 years of age, 5 feet, 4 inches in height, slender build, shallow complexion, smooth face, dark hair, bald on top and sometimes wears a wig.

and signed "Jaw Abiding," bore a Hot Springs, Ark., postmark. It was intimated that the state authorities would call the letter to the attention of the department of justice agents still in Morehouse parish, gathering evidence in connection with last summer's kidnapping which culminated in the death of Walt Daniel and T. F. Richard of Mer Rouge on Aug. 21. The mayor said the letter had been forwarded to Governor Parker and would also be referred to Attorney General Cocco for investigation. He believed it might throw some light on the kidnappings. The writer warned the mayor to "pack up and get out of town within 10 days of receipt of this notice." It continued: "You have never been any good as a man or as a citizen. Use your own judgment, and either leave or become a corpse."

Mr. Dado was an important witness for the state at the Booth open hearing. He testified that he was a former member of the KKK, and revealed the names of several other men in the hooded band.

"California Fig Syrup" is Child's Best Laxative

Hurry, mother! Even a cross, sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. It constipates, bilious, nervous, fretful, cold, croup, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Adv.

TURKS WANT MORE TIME

Ask for Delay of Two Weeks
Before the Signature of Peace at Lausanne

French Delegation's Attitude
Brings Conference to Brink
of an Impasse

LAUSANNE, Jan. 31 (by the Associated Press).—Ismet Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation to the Near East conference, asked the conference today for a delay of two weeks before the signature of peace and a delay of eight days before a meeting of the conference commission. The interval would be employed, he explained, in striving by every means to reach an agreement.

On Brink of Impasse

LAUSANNE, Jan. 31 (by the Associated Press).—The French delegation's announcement that it would stay here as long as there were prospects of agreement with Turkey led to complications among the allies which brought the Near East conference today to the brink of an impasse. The French were understood to have the support of the Italian delegation. The British received the French announcement as a violation of an understanding that if Turkey did not sign the treaty upon its presentation, the powers would withdraw.

Lord Curzon in beginning his address said the primary object of the treaty was to bring to an end the terrible and devastating war which had desolated eastern Europe and large areas of Asia for more than eight years and thus, within all the various nations, whether allied, Turkish or Greek, to go back to their homes. The treaty also was designed to enable the Turkish state which was vanquished in the war with the allies but victorious over Greece, to resume its place as a consolidated state and re-enter the family of nations.

In the third place, said Lord Curzon, the treaty was intended to build up relationships of amity, good will and friendly intercourse on equal terms between the Turkish state and the other powers of Europe.

"Thus peace, reconstruction and co-operation are the three objects," he pointed out. "The question was how far had the conference succeeded in obtaining them in the documents presented today. He was far from thinking their labors had been in vain. A considerable amount of suspicion which had hung about the earlier meetings had been blown away by the breezes of Lausanne."

Lord Curzon said everyone regretted that there had not been an agreement as to every clause in the treaty, but time was pressing and Europe, and indeed the whole world, was waiting, not for further debates but for results. Therefore, it was felt to be in the public interest that the proceeding should be brought to a termination, as he hoped they might be by common consent.

for an increase for Miles River, chief clerk, from $1500 to $2000 and also for a new clerk, at $1000. The request for an upward revision of the city treasurer's salary was not unexpected, inasmuch as he announced a week or so ago that he could not afford to hold the position any longer at the present salary of $2000 and would resign unless the city voted to place him upon a salary plane comparable with treasurers in other Massachusetts cities of Lowell's approximate size and smaller.

Previous to 1920 Mr. Bourke's salary was $2500. In that year it was increased to $3000, but was cut back to $2000 in 1922, along with other department heads who were receiving the same amount.

It has been the contention of city solicitors for the past year or two that the work of the law department has expanded to such an extent as to require a man's undivided attention and full time, and former Solicitor

Tierney stated on several occasions that an assistant collector is a real need. There is no doubt that the detailed demands upon the office have enlarged considerably within recent years and Mr. O'Sullivan feels justified in submitting a provision for the increase aforementioned.

ANOTHER WORLD WAR

Prince Sees More Trouble Ahead—Democracy May End Hates

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN,
N.E.A. Service Staff Writer
NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Europe will soon be embroiled in another great war.

In the wake of the poverty and desolation of the last great conflict have arisen new hates and rivalries which have whetted the appetites for new strife.

And there can be no staying these until they have been satiated.

These are the views of Prince Andrew of Greece, soldier and statesman, brother of the late King Constantine.

"It's the greatest tragedy of history," he said in an exclusive interview with N.E.A. Service, "despite the terrible havoc wrought in the past eight years, the world will not learn."

"I don't know if it ever will."

"As long as one nation has the coal and another has the iron, and neither is good without the other, there will be continual conflict. For years it may simmer, only to flare up when the provocation arises."

"Look at France and Germany—more embittered now than even in the hateful days of the seventies."

"The war came."

"A United States of Europe, perhaps—but that is hardly possible today. There is no foundation to work on. There are too many national differences, too many dissident groups under present conditions, to be welded together."

"The whole problem seems too great for any human solution now."

Prince Andrew looked out of the window of his room in the Hotel Ambassador, Eight floors below Jay Park avenue, New York's most exclusive street. Day workers from the East Side were jostling members of the Four Hundred out walking with their pedigreed dogs.

"Perhaps the solution lies there," the prince said wistfully. "In a complete democratization of the world. I hope so."

This from a man who comes from one of the world's most royal families, who is related to the leading monarchs of Europe!

Prince Andrew is as democratic in manner as he is in thought.

Dressed simply in sack coat, soft collar and four-in-hand tie, he would be taken for an everyday business man, if he didn't wear a monocle. He has no long retinue of followers at the hotel—just one man servant.

His wife, Princess Alice, sister of Lord Mountbatten, is just as unostentatious.

"Together," said the prince, "we hope to do a 'Cook's Tour' of this country. We want to see the whole United States—and we know that its greater part lies beyond New York."

After a six-month trip they expect to return to London where their children have been going to school since Prince Andrew's banishment from Greece.

"There is just one thing that I don't like about this land," Prince Andrew closed. "I can't get accustomed to its telephone."

Capt. Cota, His Assistant and Guards, Bound, Gagged and Tied by Bandits

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Jan. 31.—Charged with the daring holdup robbery of a $43,000 army payroll in front of the First National bank at Hampton yesterday, Corporals John S. Wood and James Harvey were held under military guard at Langley Field today, pending a decision as to whether they will be tried before a civil or military court. It appeared probable that the two men, who were said to have had in their possession a greater portion of the money taken when they were arrested last night, would be brought before a court martial.

The two alleged bandits offered no resistance to their arrest by Lieutenant C. P. Horton, who said he came upon them with his party as they were joking with two negroes. The latter stated afterwards they had just agreed to drive Wood and Harvey, who said they had lost their way in the woods while hunting, to Newport News.

Search for the men began when Captain Norman D. Cota, chief finance officer, his assistant, chauffeur and guard of two enlisted men, were found bound and gagged and tied to trees in the

MARY GARDEN PRAISES COUE

Star Singer Declares Auto-Suggestion Has Added New Notes to Her Vocal Range

Pays Public Testimonial to Healer at Tremont Temple Meeting

BOSTON, Jan. 31.—Auto-suggestion has added new notes to the vocal range of Mary Garden, star singer of the Chicago Civic Opera Company. Preceding today over an added meeting in the lecture court of Euclid College, father of the auto-suggestion movement, she paid public testimonial to the good it had done her by saying that her voice had improved appreciably since she took up the idea a month ago, and that she was able to reach notes that she had never sounded before. One high note, in "Tosca," she mentioned especially, always previously beyond her range, she had taken recently without effort.

M. Coue's meeting of today was a repetition of the two which had gone before and again Tremont Temple was almost full. On the platform were several persons who were crippled, but made no effort at individual treatment, repeating his general instruction in the fundamentals of the school of healing based on auto-suggestion.

A 10-minute talk on Physiology which may make you ten years younger

It is a practically universal law of Nature that any muscle or organ which is not exercised regularly, sooner or later gives trouble. Yet we neglect the very ones on which health and life depend!

NINETEEN years ago Metchnikoff, famous scientist at the Pasteur Institute in Paris, startled the medical world with his announcement that in the human colon lay the secret of life and health.

The colon, or large intestine, is a hollow tube about four feet long, equipped with rings of muscles like a set of clamps. By contracting one after the other, these muscles force the contents of the tube along.

The colon is never empty. Into it drains the waste which the body must get rid of—dead cells, poisonous acids, waste from food which the body cannot use.

How the body removes this waste

The muscles of the colon must keep all this waste moving—otherwise it decays and generates deadly poisons which soak through into the blood and flood your whole system.

What this does to the muscles of your arm, Fleischmann's Yeast does to the muscles of your intestine—gives them normal, healthy exercise

That is why constipation is so dangerous. That is why the first thing your doctor wants to know—is: are these muscles acting regularly—freeing you of the poisons that gather in your system?

Why is Constipation so prevalent today?

The reason is simple. We inherited our bodies from ancestors who ate an abundance of the raw foods of the forest. Such foods created a bulk which gave the muscles of the intestine plenty of work to do, exercising them regularly and constantly. Today our civilization demands more delicate foods—marvellous in variety and in taste—but leaving the muscles of the intestine with too little work to do. This makes them weak and flabby—just like the muscles of your arm without exercise.

His famous paper 19 years ago startled the medical world

Drugs only increase the trouble

Drugs and cathartics will make the muscles act, it is true, but they do it by nervous irritation. That is not exercise. Each time it happens, it leaves the muscles weaker than before.

The only way to relieve constipation permanently is by giving these muscles natural, healthy exercise.

You can take your choice: either treacherous drugs which only make matters worse, or natural exercise of the intestinal muscles as nature intended! Either a losing battle with poisons that sap your vitality and cloud your brain—or the joy of vigorous lasting health!

The simple food that is restoring health to thousands

Everywhere physicians and hospitals are prescribing Fleischmann's Yeast today—not as a medicine, but as a fresh corrective food which gives the intestinal muscles regular, natural exercise.

Every cake of Fleischmann's Yeast consists of millions of tiny living plants, which mix with the waste products in the colon, softening them, and increasing the bulk of the waste. This greater bulk gently encourages the muscles to act, and at the same time strengthens them by offering just the resistance they need.

Gently, regularly, they respond—easily and naturally the waste is moved along and out of your system!

Your own physician will heartily endorse this principle of regularly exercising the intestinal muscles as the only way to relieve constipation and all its evils.

Fleischmann's Yeast is in no sense a purgative and does not produce immediate violent action. It must be eaten regularly to secure lasting results.

Eat at least 2 or 3 cakes a day—

plain, or dissolved in water, milk, or fruit juices—preferably half an hour before a meal, or the last thing at night. If you eat it plain, follow with a glass of water. Get several cakes at a time—they will keep in a cool, dry place for several days. Be sure you get Fleischmann's Yeast. All grocers have it.

Appetite and energy restored—

Yeast is the richest known source of Vitamin-B, on which health and vigor so largely depend. It is inexpensive and easily available. Men and women troubled with loss of appetite and energy, or faulty digestion, have found that these troubles disappear when they eat Fleischmann's Yeast regularly.

By helping to "tone up" the whole system and at the same time keeping it free from poisons, Fleischmann's Yeast enables you to eat more, and to get more benefit from the food you eat.

Skin and complexion cleared— Skin troubles are often danger flags of lowered vitality—generally associated with constipation. Fleischmann's Yeast is now established as a food which corrects the basic cause of many disorders of the skin.

That ruddy glow of health, that freedom from such unhealthy skin conditions comes only from perfect health within. Fleischmann's Yeast rids you of these disorders by increasing the number of white corpuscles in the blood and keeping stomach and intestines in a natural, healthy state.

EFFECT OF PROHIBITION
ENFORCEMENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The effect of prohibition enforcement in California according to a survey by S. F. Rutter, state director, based on juvenile court statistics and testimony of probation officers, divorce court judges and welfare commissioners is "most apparent in that broad region of wretchedness and unhappiness which intervenes between private domestic happiness and public prisons," rather than "in the records of the more serious crimes."

The survey which was made public today by the information bureau of the prohibition unit, says the annual number of arrests for drunkenness in California declined from an average of 27,303 in the three years period prior to prohibition to 14,455 in the three subsequent years, while juvenile court cases declined from 1692 to 1635. Deaths from alcoholism in the two years immediately following the beginning of prohibition enforcement it says averaged 63 a year, while in the five preceding years the average was 265.

SAYS AGRICULTURE
IS GETTING BETTER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Agriculture from a financial standpoint is getting better although the farmer's dollar opened the new year with a purchasing power equal to 68 cents before the war.

For the last year the average index number of the purchasing power of farm products in terms of other commodities that farmers buy was 68, an increase of two points over 1921, but a decrease of 17 points from the 1920 average, according to department of agriculture index figures just completed.

December improved over November, an increase of five points in having been shown in the index number of the average farm prices of 10 leading crops and a decrease of 1 point in the price of commodities excluding farm and food products that farmers buy.

LAST WORD IN LIGHT VESSELS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Nantucket shoals, off the Massachusetts south coast, one of the most important lightship stations in the world, and the point where many an incoming trader gets his first glimpse of America, will be marked within a few months by the last word in light vessels.

One of the new lightships under construction at Bath, Me., will replace the present ship on Nantucket south shoals. It will have a radio for signaling to warn ships which pass will be equipped with electrical signal lights and will have an oscillator in place of a submarine bell for use during fog. The new vessel will be fully equipped for radio communication.

ROTARIANS AT HAMILTON AS GUESTS OF AGENT MILLIKEN

Dinner in the Plant Followed by Interesting Journey Through One of City's Leading Cloth Mills With Genial Agent as Master of Ceremonies and Guide

Albert D. Milliken, agent of the Hamilton Manufacturing Co., appeared today in the role of "Miss Host" to brother Rotarians and accompanying guests, at the big textile plant on Jackson street. The Rotarian mill executive appeared to be anxious to give the clubmen something to remember, and he succeeded.

In a four-roles-in-one capacity as chief host, reception committee of one, principal speaker and usher, Agent Milliken proved himself to be highly adaptable socially on this eventful January day in Lowell. Yesterday the host wound up a busy hour by leading a long procession of eager sightseers through Hamilton mills Nos. 5, 4, 2, 7 and 8; the cloth room building, the bleach house, the house, finishing building, storage house, coal docks, boiler house, packing rooms, wheel and power houses, "distilling" room, No. 6, and all around the windy mill yards. The procession of wandering clubmen, many of them seeing the inside of a modern textile mill for the very first time as a matter of fact, was rather novel.

The appearance of a band of Lowell business men in nutty fedoras and dories, top-coats, business suits, nobby gloves and a few with new walking sticks, rather upset one or two of the textile departments where energetic spinners and other textile workers of the feminine gender labor incessantly from day to day.

Every loom has to be tended carefully, less the operators' attention be diverted for the nonce and "second" cloth turned out. So the orders went out to Rotary just before the grand march to the operators' rooms:

"Watch your step! Don't attract attention! Keep moving! You know there is a possibility of 'second' in you boys of the Rotary attract too much attention. March!"

And they all obeyed orders, but kept their eyes wide open just the same and the sights they saw in some of the textile rooms were very pleasing to the eye indeed. Some of the young Rotarians said after the walk around. But no Rotarian stopped any loom so far as the record shows.

It actually was one of the most interesting sightseeing tours ever conducted by Lowell Rotarians, thanks to Agent Milliken, who led the Rotarians away when he last mentioned some new Puritan or Linc or Priscilla line of napped goods.

The Rotarians gathered early—some of them before 12 o'clock. Dinner was called promptly at 12:30. Agent Milliken leading the procession down the ancient office corridors of that portion of the mill structure erected way back in 1825, and winding briskly around into another little corridor that took the Rotarians into a white-painted interior and cloth specialists' work rooms. The Rotarians were then taken to the hall for the Rotarians' use today. Page was the caterer and there were plenty of good smokes for all after the Milliken menu of many delicacies.

Displayed on tables nearby were very lifelike samples of much of the Hamilton Manufacturing company's regular and new output. There was cotton in the "raw," and then in the different spools including all the weaving sizes from the intermediate down to the finer grades.

Although Agent Milliken happened to be chairman of the day, he was introduced by President Hutchins Parker of the Rotary club as a wide-awake, member of long standing, a member in club in textile work and a genuine good citizen "well worth listening up to."

After the members and guests paid their respects to President Parker again and handed him a comforting smoke, Mr. Milliken began his little informative speech, covering many phases of cotton manufacturing from the raw products to the finished cloth.

He exhibited many grades of cotton, a few of them being cotton from the south, from Egypt and some from India, he said. He then described briefly the travels of the cotton to the yarn and the cloth, combing, carding, the shuttle loom, the spools and other familiar textile mill processes. Numerous examples of finished materials, huge bunches of raw cotton with seeds intact, eleven-spun spools of many intricate designs, colors and textures and a number of "automobile cloth weaves" were shown, in latest wanted goods.

The display of the soft spun goods was a revelation to many of the Rotarians and even to some of the visiting textile men included in today's rotating delegation at the Hamilton plant.

New ring-spinning ideas, with new machinery working like human hands, were also revealed in an explanatory talk by Agent Milliken in his short but meaty address on the Hamilton business output and methods of production.

Mr. Milliken said if the present Hamilton plant had to be built anew today, it would cost between $15,000,000 and $18,000,000. He told of the many fire hazards of cotton that burned very slowly even under water, of the uselessness of trying to extinguish a fire in baled cotton by soaking it in water and explained that when a large quantity of cotton was set on fire, a sort of cellulose covering appeared to cover it, holding fire within the mass, yet giving it appearance outside the most ill covering of being entirely extinguished. He declared that the fire hazards in the cotton textile mills are tremendous every day in the year.

The Rotarians were invited to inspect the Hamilton plant from top to bottom after the Milliken address, and every one present accepted the invitation. The main offices were apt and span, as usual, but so were the mill quarters where the male and feminine operatives work daily. No attempt was made to furnish up any of the mill machine rooms. They were in operation in the usual way, just as they are every day.

The operatives were surprised to see so many men pop into the big entrance doors and overran the place, but the visitors took extra precautions not to interfere with any department or "loom section" or even get in the way of the "runners" and others employed in moving from one room to another, and the orderly movement of the textile industry was highly enjoyed by everyone, including the operatives.

Over in the section where considerable new work has been turned out by the Hamilton company during the fall and winter, the Rotarians saw vast quantities of new goods in the napped lines ready for shipment to world destinations.

Rotarian "Al" Weaver is leading, huster on the anniversary program of Lowell Rotary, and the club committee handling the Feb. 27 event plans many novel features never before sprung in Lowell. The Memorial Auditorium has been engaged for the "annual."

The membership attendance contest between Lowell and Fitchburg Rotary clubs, starts at 7 o'clock and winds up at 10:30. It will run eight days, with each club having 10 teams. Lawrence won the contest with Lowell last year, and the locals had to pay for the dinners. Lowell is out to beat the Fitchburg club this season.

TO RING CHURCH BELLS ON ELECTION DAY

BOSTON, Jan. 30.—Election day should be called emphatically to the attention of the voters in the opinion of speakers at a legislative hearing today. Secretary of State Frederick W. Cook and others favored a bill introduced by Representative Bernard Burley of Newton, providing that in every city and town in the state, church bells and fire alarms should be rung for 15 minutes on the morning of every election day.

Secretary Cook said that the plan had been successful in places where it had been adopted resulting in a decided increase in early morning voting. He thought five minutes would be long enough to ring the bells.

Mr. Burley said many of his friends who had failed to vote for him at the last election had told him they had forgotten it was election day.

TO PROVE MASKED BAND RESPONSIBLE FOR DEATH

ANDOVER, Okla., Jan. 30.—(By the Associated Press) A jury was expected to be completed today for the trial of Jeff Smith, an oil field worker, who, while in prominent business and professional work of Carter county, is charged with the murder of Joe Carroll of Wilson, slain while he offered resistance to a band of masked men.

The prospective jurors were questioned closely regarding their attitude toward the K.K.C. and other secret organizations.

The county attorney said he intended to bring out testimony that some masked organization was responsible for Carroll's death.

U. S. DELEGATES TO PAN-AMERICAN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The American delegation to the Pan-American congress to be held at Santiago, Chile, in March, will be headed by Henry P. Fletcher, American ambassador to Belgium and will include Senators Kellogg of Minnesota and Penrose of Oklahoma, former Senator Saulsbury of Delaware, George E. Vincent, president of the Rockefeller Foundation, New York; Frank C. Partridge of Vermont; William E. Rice Fowler, Washington, and Dr. L. S. Rowe, director of the Pan-American union.

Mr. Kingsbury described his company as the pioneer in establishment of the eight-hour day in the oil industry, having abandoned the 12-hour shift in 1917.

"What was the effect of the change?" the committee attorney asked.

"It has been eminently beneficial," the witness replied. "It has added to the efficiency, the esprit de corps and the morale of the men."

PLAN TO MERGE MILK ORGANIZATIONS

BOSTON, Jan. 30.—A proposal to bring together in one organization the 50 milk marketing groups now operating in the New England field, was the subject of principal consideration today at the annual meeting of the New England Milk Producers' association. The plan proposed a year ago to pool all the milk of this section in one organization has been put aside temporarily, these most active said, with the idea that by merging the 60 organizations now in the business, a nucleus will have been formed for comprehensive marketing association.

KEN WILLIAMS READY TO PLAY

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 30.—Kenneth Williams, who led the American League in home runs last season, in a letter received at the Browns' headquarters today, expressed his anxious to get back in harness. Business Manager Bob Quinn said he interpreted this as a dispassionate statement that there would be no fight in setting Williams' signature to a 1923 contract.

BRIEF BUT IMPORTANT MOSUL QUESTION FOR THE LEAGUE

Dispute Between Great Britain and Turkey Brought Before Council of League

Lord Balfour Appeals for Action—Declares Menace to Peace Involved

PARIS, Jan. 30.—(By the Associated Press) The dispute between Great Britain and Turkey over the Mosul frontier, involving the oil producing fields of Mosul, was brought before the council of the League of Nations today by the secretary of the League. He called the council's attention to the letter written to him by Lord Curzon, the British foreign secretary, on this subject.

Mosul, said Lord Balfour, was a question for the league to consider, because the league has mandated territory. Great Britain acting in that territory in behalf of the League of Nations.

The question furthermore was of interest to the league because Lord Balfour, because of the menace to peace that was involved in the dispute, had asked the council to take note of the situation and also to express itself regarding Article XVII of the league covenant, which he thought might give the Turks apprehension that they would not be admitted to an equal footing by the council.

The paragraph in question provides that in the event of a dispute between a league member and a state not a member, the latter shall be invited to accept the obligations of membership in the league for the purpose of such dispute upon such conditions as the council may deem just.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Jan. 30.—New Hampshire rested today during the time set for funeral services at Grace Episcopal church in this city, for Congressman Sherman E. Burroughs, who died in Washington Saturday night.

Jack Daw in Toyland. Chapter 1

Jack Daw, like all other boys, was very fond of toys. So when he heard that the biggest department store in his town had a wonderful toy department, he decided to visit it. The floor walker in this store told him that the moving stairway would take him up to where the toys were.

Jack followed several people to this stairway and was soon riding slowly upwards. He stood perfectly still, but the stairway carried him along quite rapidly. As Jack neared the end of the ride he heard quite a noise behind him. Looking back, he saw Flip running up the stairs.

Flip was Jack's pet dog and he always went where Jack went. "Well, old fellow," said Jack, as the dog reached him, "did you think I was going to leave you behind?" And then Jack heard a man shout, "This way to toy land." And looking up Jack saw a wonderful sight. (Continued.)

Adventures of The Twins

HUSTLER BEARS SPEECH

JUST THEN BUSTER HIMSELF WADDLED AROUND A CORNER

Everybody in Dreamland sat around in a circle.

It was a new kind of school Nancy was having. Where everybody could say as much as he liked and what-ever he liked.

"Next!" called Nancy. "Will Buster Brown Bear please recite."

Instantly there was a scramble. "Buster Bear here!" shrieked Jack Jumping Mouse, starting to jump away, forgetting that he was now as big as a kangaroo.

"Buster Bear!" shouted Mike Mole. "Buster Bear!" shouted Ben Bunny and Wally Woodchuck and everybody. Nancy laughed. "Well, all you see him!" she said.

Just then Buster himself waddled around a corner, a nice good-natured stuffed Teddy Bear with shoe button eyes and yarn toe-nails.

"Oh!" said Jack Mouse in a relieved voice.

"Oh!" said Mike Mole.

"Oh!" said everybody. "Oh! Oh! Oh!" And they all sat down again.

"Will you please recite," said Nancy to Buster.

"Certainly!" said Buster, obligingly, with a squeaky voice away down in his chest. "But I can't stay long. My mistress will be looking for me. That's the little girl who bought me in the Dreamland Toy Store. But I'll have time to say a speech about bees."

"Good," said Nancy, rapping to keep order. "Please begin."

"Oh, bees,"

"They live in trees,

"Thick as fleas,

"If you please,

"They tease

"Me when I squeeze

"And then I sneeze

"And shake my knees

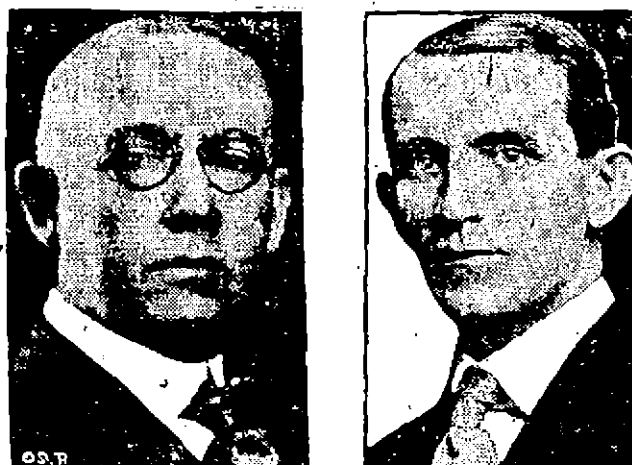

"And fall to the ground."

"That's all I know," said Buster. "Goodbye! I must be going. I'll come back any time you want me." And he waddled away on his sawdust legs.

"Goodbye, Buster," called the whole Dreamland School after him. "That was a lovely piece."

GREETING THE STORM

As required by English constitution, Hon. Secretary of the House of Commons, Mr. Lloyd George, will be present at the birth of Princess Mary's child when that event takes place in London. His office requires that he be in attendance at the birth of any child that might stand in the line of succession to the English throne.

MORE BOY BATES BORN

LONDON, Jan. 31.—Scholars think the old belief more boy babies are born after a war is rooted in fact. Vital statistics show 40 per thousand more boys are being born now than in normal times.

PIGRIK COMMANDERY CONCERT OF FOLK SONGS

Knights Templars Take Over Strand Theatre for Evening of Entertainment

Pigrik Commandery, Knights Templars, took over the Strand theatre last evening for the entertainment of its members and guests to the number of nearly one thousand and made of the affair one of the most enjoyable social functions imaginable. The evening's program embraced current motion picture attractions, featuring George Arliss in "The Man Who Played God," delightfully interspersed with musical selections by local artists and the Mac-

HON. PERRY D. THOMPSON
Eminent Commander

sonic choir and followed by a delightful buffet luncheon and general dancing in the theatre lobby. The Strand is particularly well adapted to social affairs of this type, as the beautifully appointed foyer affords ample hall room space without a feeling of congestion and also there is adequate promenade room for those who wish to move about. Attractive indeed were the luncheon serving tables placed upon the stage and set with silver candelabra, red candles and glassware.

The entertainment program began promptly at 8:15 o'clock and ran as follows: Brief introductions now and then to allow for relaxation and extended sociality.

- Organ Overture
Pianists: Current Events, Press Topics
Songs, Mrs. Nettie M. Roberts
Piano, Mrs. Ethel Dixon Knights Arless Picture, "The Man Who Played God"
Songs, Albert Edmund Brown
Dancing, Eleanor Mae Pitts
Violin, Edward W. Daly
Waltzes, Doris Master
Selections, Masonic Choir

Throughout this program was thoroughly enjoyable and of such unusual high grade as to deny opportunity for special comment. Under the excellent leadership of Albert Edmund Brown, the Masonic choir attained great success, but this was just one of many good things provided for the Templars and their guests.

General dancing commenced at 11 o'clock and continued until 1 a. m.

As first officer of the Commandery, Hon. Perry D. Thompson was in entire charge of the affair and aided by competent committees was wholly responsible for its success. Assisting committees embraced the following:

Tickets—Charles P. Frederick, Frank P. Dobson, Edson K. Humphrey, Augustus P. Sarre, George N. Shay, Orr W. Hardy, Albert Ludwig, Harry Fleming, Luncheon—Donald L. Cameron, Albert D. Sullivan, Charles B. Cooke, Royal K. Dexter, John H. Johnson.

Highly Entertaining Program
by Miss Wyman at the Memorial Auditorium

A very entertaining concert of folk songs was given at the Memorial Auditorium last night by Miss Lorraine Wyman. Miss Wyman's singing of the various folk songs showed intensive study of phraseology and accentuation and also impressed one that she was singing them because she loved them, not for any mercenary purpose.

Before singing the French group, Miss Wyman explained the meaning of the songs, some were sad and some were humorous, but each was characteristic of that part of the country from whence it came. For the first group Miss Wyman appeared in a costume composed of large high white hat, long flowing dress of dull fabric with white collar and rough unfinished shoes, all characteristic of the provinces of France. In this group were also two songs from old Canada. In speaking of these Miss Wyman told of visiting the provinces singing for some of the older peasants who had learned these songs from their fathers by word of mouth for there were no written records of them, and of finding them at last in a quiet old village in the mountains and recording these songs upon a phonograph. As a matter of fact, she said, it was the interest that the phonograph created that enabled the peasants to get over their shyness and sing for her, and in singing their songs last night she imitated these characters as well as she could.

In her songs of the province of Alsace Wyman appeared in a costume of rough homespun, made for her by a woman of that district, and a large sunbonnet. The latter she threw back on her shoulders when singing as she said the maids of that region usually do except when exposed to the hot sun. The people of that district are of English and Irish descent and were plainly shown by the songs she sang, the rhythm and the words showing the influence of the old homes of the forebears of this hardy race.

Miss Wyman's costume for the English group was an old-fashioned, heavily colored, homespun and light bodice as was the dress of that period of English history from which most of her songs were taken. In this group she introduced one Irish song, "I Know My Love," but all the others were from old England.

It was Miss Wyman's intention to create an atmosphere in the minds of the audience of the country of which she was singing, not of the large cities of the United States, but of the humble homes of the peasant of the provinces; neither in Montreal or Quebec the place to find the heart of the old French-Canadian. She asked the audience to consider her as not on a stage with piano accompaniment, but as a woman who was working in the fields of the country of which she sang.

At no time did she appear to have any difficulty in sending her voice to all parts of the Auditorium, but neither did she strain her voice in the attempt. She was ably accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Louis Smith, whose playing was exceptionally good and added greatly to the effect of her singing.

Practically every seat in the Auditorium was filled when Miss Wyman started her concert and it was practically a unanimous opinion that she ever appears in Lowell again she will have no difficulty whatsoever in filling the hall to overflowing.

LECTURE BY MRS. CABOT AT NORMAL SCHOOL

Mrs. Ella Lyman Cabot of the advisory board, state department of education, and the writer of several books on ethics, gave a very instructive lecture at the Normal school this forenoon, to approximately 200 pupils and teachers on the subject of "The Development of Character as Related to Self-Expression."

In opening her lecture Mrs. Cabot said that there are two sides to the question of self-expression; one is the negative side that shows too much expression and the other is the side which shows self-expression done upon a strong character. "For," she said, "everything must have a foundation and a limit. The house must have its walls and its roof, and the person must have a character. Character is necessary to self-expression; take as an example the boy who goes out for his football team, the nurse, the musician, the teacher. What virtues does each one have to fit himself for any one of these positions? And the answer is, patience, perseverance, self-control, sacrifice, tact, ingenuity, sympathy, punctuality, memory, courage; all are necessary for success in any vocation."

Mrs. Cabot then took up the faults that must be corrected before we can really succeed and said that in her opinion procrastination is the worst of them all. "There are two degrees of procrastination. The dominating type and the dreamy, easy-going type. The dreamy type is the one who also most in this regard and there is usually some understanding reason for his procrastination. Sometimes it is sickness, again it is lack of sleep, and quite often it is lack of interest in the things we must do that causes this fault. With procrastination go other associated faults—disorderliness in home, in work, and in mind. Practically the only way to correct this harmful habit is to create your interest in what you find you are putting off doing from day to day. Get so that instead of hating to do it, you find something interesting about it and you will soon find that it is easy to do."

"Now we will turn again," said the speaker, "to the positive side of the question. How do virtues help us to express ourselves? And she answered it herself, saying there are several ways and she cited one very excellent example of how a person's virtues lead to success even though the person has no training for work of any kind. The story she told was of a girl whom she personally had known who had been brought up by a well-to-do family. She married and then her husband died leaving her practically destitute with a daughter to support. She succeeded in getting a position in one of the large stores in Boston at $8 a week. She went to work with no training whatsoever but with two well formed ideas about the work. She would never find fault with anyone above or below her, and she would always appear cheerful. She advanced wonderfully and at the end of two years was receiving over $100 a week as buyer for the firm.

With this example of what virtue does for those who have them, Mrs. Cabot ended her lecture. One of the points of her lecture was the importance of the school for her life. Interesting talk as is the custom of the school and the lecture for next week was announced. It will be on "The Values of Dramatics in Child Life" and will be given by Miss Lotta Clark of the Boston Normal School next Wednesday, February 7th, at 2:15 p. m.

LABOR UNIONS FIGHTING ANTI-LABOR BILL

A vigorous fight has been started by the labor leaders in this city and in fact of New England against the passage of the anti-labor bill, which has been presented to the legislature by Representative Charles of Worcester. It was learned today that the Lowell Textile council has sent letters to all the local representatives and senators urging them to do everything possible to prevent the bill from becoming law. In addition to the activity of the local labor movement, the New England conference board of the United Textile Workers of America has also taken up the matter and has sent communications to all the representatives and senators of the commonwealth, asking their support in the defeat of the measure which calls for the elimination of all labor laws now on the statute books.

John Hanley, chairman of the Lowell Textile council and member of the executive board of the United Textile Workers of America, stated today that the organization he represents is particularly opposed to the bill as it seems to be a drive against the textile operatives. "Of course," he said, "we have not the slightest doubt but that the bill will be thrown in the waste basket with a lot of other foolish bills of this nature, but nevertheless we do not intend to sleep on the job." Mr. Hanley further stated that in his opinion the majority of the Massachusetts legislators are broad-minded men and men who can easily see the folly of such legislation. "This bill of Rep. O'Brien," he continued, "was introduced at the last meeting of the New England conference board of the U.T.W. of A. held recently in Lawrence, and at that time the secretary of the board was instructed to send a communication of protest to all the representatives and senators of the state. The bill is presented, who represented textile unions from various parts of New England, were also instructed to report to their respective councils and request their organizations to communicate with the legislators of their respective districts. Mr. O'Brien's bill is a similar law in so drastic and so narrow to be enacted by such a body of men as we have at the state legislature."

WHAT THE WEATHER BUREAU EXPERTS SAY

Snow or rain tonight and tomorrow with warmer weather coming, is the prediction for the next 24 hours by the weather bureau experts. Temperatures higher this morning after another night of raw winds and low mercury readings. The sun tried to stay out during the morning, but the clouds were heavy most of the day. Low pressure areas to the west and north presage a storm of some kind. The inch of snow that fell day before yesterday increased January's snowfall to 28 inches, which leaves only 7 1/2 inches needed to equal the greatest January snowfall record in Lowell since the weather bureau was established. For the season the snowfall has increased to 42.6 inches. At the same time, January is going into the books as a month below normal in heat, although the departure is not great.

AT THE STATE ARMORY AN IMPORTANT MOVE

Lowell Chamber of Commerce Members

Capt. Faneul of B battery today sent a cordial invitation to members of the Lowell chamber of commerce to be entertainment guests of the battery men at their armory on Westford st., on the night of Feb. 13. The invitation has been accepted.

The B Battery boys are planning a program of much interest, with features that ought to delight the visiting business men. The battery men will provide refreshments and a lively program of entertainment. Details of the program are being arranged by the soldier boys and are to be announced shortly.

The invitation from B battery is issued as a token of appreciation for the chamber's efforts to arouse more interest in battery affairs and to promote successful military events of the sort that will increase battery activities as an organization and strengthen interest in the battery ideals and as an important institution ready in times of need.

Other notable changes are to be made in the Shawheen district by the corporation management. The town assessors, which at present pay no taxes, will be enlarged to take in at least 50, but it will be used no longer for almshouse purposes, but as a dormitory for girls' stenographers and clerks from the Boston offices.

The new administration building is to be built stories high and constructed of brick and limestone.

A four hundred pair telephone cable on Bridge street, serving approximately 1500 subscribers in Centralville, was cut out of commission yesterday when water flooded the manholes and ditches between Third street and Lakeview avenue. A crew of "trouble shooters" was sent to the scene of the break with gasoline pumps and as soon as the water was cleared from the manholes at Lakeview avenue and Second street the break was located and repair work started. It was found necessary to run a new cable in place of the damaged section and as there are 800 wires to be spliced at each end of the break this is a tremendous task. The repair men worked all day yesterday and all night last night and the work is no light task. Manager Loring expects to have all circuits working late this afternoon or this evening. A pump was still working this morning at the manhole near Third street in an attempt to clear the water from this hole, although no damage has been done to the cables there by water up to the present time.

BELGIUM AND FRANCE DEMAND FOR LAST TIME THAT GERMANY FULFILL OBLIGATIONS

BRUSSELS, Jan. 31.—(By the Associated Press)—Belgium and France will present to the German government in Berlin at 6 o'clock tonight, an ultimatum demanding for the last time that Germany fulfill the reparations program and execute the treaty of Versailles, it was announced here this afternoon.

(By the Associated Press)—Further drastic action by the French if the Germans do not cease their passive hostility toward the Ruhr occupation, is forecast by some of the correspondents in the valley. They assert the French intend sending a virtual ultimatum to Berlin tonight announcing this step.

EXPLOSION IMPRISONS 250 MINERS IN POLISH SILESIA

Drugs Worth $250,000 Seized in Raid

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Government agents early today arrested two men and confiscated a trunk, said to contain narcotics valued at $250,000, in a raid on an apartment in the lower east side. The prisoners gave the names of James Martin and Harry Rosen. Federal agents said the two men were leaders in a narcotic ring which had smuggled great quantities of drugs into this country.

GOVERNOR WILL ATTEND CARNIVAL

Supt. John W. Kernan of the park department was in telephone communication with Governor Channing Cox today to invite him to attend the Winter Carnival either on Thursday or Friday and received assurance from the chief executive that he will make every effort to stretch a point and make the trip.

"I think a day of rest may do me good," said Governor Cox, "and I promise you I will arrange my business so as to go to Lowell if it is possible."

The governor is an ardent supporter of outdoor winter sports and in advance wished the Lowell carnival every measure of success.

NO INCREASE FOR TEACHERS

Mayor Says City Cannot Afford to Shoulder More Financial Responsibilities

If the Lowell school committee maintains a policy adhered to at its meeting last night, there will be no salary increases voted to teachers this year. Information as to the feeling of the committee on this vitally important question resulted from discussion that followed an attempt on the part of Mr. Bruhn to secure an advance of $100 per year for all elementary grade teachers, including kindergarten principles. Mayor Donovan set the ball of opposition rolling when he said the city could not afford to shoulder any more financial responsibilities this year, and further opposition was voiced by every other member except Mr. Bruhn, who fought for it, saying the salary schedule of grade teachers is too low and finally forced the matter to a roll call vote, where it was defeated, with the mayor and Dr. Slaughter voting "no" and Mr. Delaney, Mr. Mullin, Mrs. Pearson and

WILLIAM F. HILLS DEAD

Former Lowell Banker Passed Away Yesterday in San Mateo, Florida

William F. Hills, 55, former Lowell banker and prominent in Baptist church and Y.M.C.A. affairs locally, died yesterday at San Mateo, Florida, after a short illness with influenza.

The funeral was held this morning at San Mateo, Florida. Burial will be in Lowell cemetery.

Mr. Hills was a vice-president of the Traders' National bank and had always taken an active interest in Lowell and its social, business and religious life. He was a valiant leader in Y.M.C.A. work and at one time served as treasurer of the trustees. He was also on the board of the trustees of the Faith Home at one time, former president of the Lowell Baptist union, a member of Calvary Baptist church, the Amphion Musical club and the Merrimack River Baptist union.

Deceased was a native of East Cambridge, born August 15, 1864. He was educated in local schools, and later studied in Boston. He began business under the guidance of Jacob Rogers, and later became a clerk in the Italian

Budget Board Tackles 1923 Estimates

ROYAL E. DEXTER

TYLER A. STEVENS

The budget and audit commission met to tackle the 1923 departmental estimates this afternoon and will remain in session daily until a budget of its own is established and presented to the mayor. Mayor John J. Donovan joined the commission at its first session and is likely to continue to do so.

It is probable that heads of all major departments, or divisions whose estimates bulk fairly large, will from time to time appear before the commission during its deliberations. Some of these heads have expressed a desire to go over their submitted figures with the commission, while others, will be asked to attend sessions at which their departments are being discussed. In this manner the commission will be able to obtain intimate information concerning all items included in the estimates.

Today's session was called for 2:30 o'clock and Chairman Tyler A. Stevens said this noon the plans of procedure were rather indefinite, but probably would resolve into daily sessions, with departments being considered in rotation and information acquired about each before any definite set of figures is decided upon.

As to what policy will be followed, the chairman could not say. He admitted some estimates "obviously will be pruned considerably," but until

City Solicitor and City Treasurer Ask Substantial Salary Increases

Salary increases of $1500 and $1800, respectively, have been asked this year by City Solicitor Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan and City Treasurer Fred H. Tourke, as shown by estimates from the law and treasurer's departments submitted to the city auditor today.

If granted, Mr. O'Sullivan's salary will jump from $3000 to $4500 and Mr. Tourke's from $3000 to $4800.

In addition to the provision for this increase for the city solicitor, the law department estimates show provisions

CITY DEPARTMENTS ASK FOR MORE THAN $50,000 WORTH OF NEW MOTOR VEHICLES

More than $50,000 worth of new motor vehicles, including cars of the pleasure type, trucks, fire apparatus, an ambulance and a "baby" tractor, are being asked for this year by city departments.

They will survive the rigors of audit commission investigation, another question, but they have been asked for just the same.

Motor fire apparatus, costing $35,000, represents the greater portion of the total amount and if allowed, the city will completely motorize the department.

The charity department, division of outdoor relief, estimates the cost of a new ambulance at $4500. The engineering department wants a truck, at $1500, and a runabout for $800.

The park department desires a small tractor for pulling out stones and stumps and says one will not cost more than $1500. The chief of the fire department wants a motor car, $3000. The Chestnut Street Hospital has installed a provision for a machine in its estimates, figured at $1000. The purchasing agent feels a car would save time and money for his department and places its initial cost at $1125, while the buildings department also wants new motor transportation for an amount not definitely stated.

All in all, it looks like a good year for the motor car dealers, providing the estimates are allowed to "ride."

STAGE ALL SET FOR BIG WINTER CARNIVAL AT FORT HILL BEGINNING TOMORROW

All ready for the carnival!

The first winter celebration of the merry outdoor brand with all the familiar northern carnival attachments and many additional joy features, entirely new and exclusively Lowell's, starts tomorrow on old Fort Hill, where the moonstruck Indian used to scamper the frozen trails.

This 1923 carnival of carnivals, sure to be one of the biggest outdoor events ever conducted for the people in Lowell or vicinity, promises to be a success from start to finish. Healthful sport activities will rule, with toboggan slides, skiing, sports on snow and ice, fancy skating, battles between merry opposing forces of both sexes, parades, bonfires—all the picturesque scenes that make up an ideal winter carnival—will be found at Fort Hill tomorrow and Friday.

On Friday, the carnival winds up with that much-advertised "knicker parade" from the carnival grounds to the Memorial Auditorium, and this is going to be an eye-opener as well as one of the most attractive parades ever staged in Lowell thoroughfares.

It is "knickers" now. All the rage and a sort of removal by one or two from the days of the old style of natty outdoor clothing, who was once a Lowell matron, would be delighted if she had been staged before and Friday and see the new style bloomers, or knickers, in all their glory on Fort Hill's white playgrounds.

Nothing like that monster "knicker" parade from the park to the Auditorium on East Merrimack street, scheduled for Friday evening, has ever been staged before anywhere, so far as our expert winter carnival bounds can find out.

Lowell will want to see that parade.

It will be a costume parade as well as just a crowd of snow revellers, but the variety of knickers to be displayed will, it is said, be well worth inspecting. If Lowell's first big winter carnival failed to cause any unusual enthusiasm with the regular list of

EX-COUNCILMAN BRADY
ON WESTERN TRIP

Ex-Councilman John J. Brady of this city left Boston at 4 o'clock this afternoon on a trip that will include several western cities and other points of interest. The real purpose of his trip, however, is to visit his brother, Rev. Thomas Brady, who has a large and important parish in Springfield, Mo. Mr. Brady has visited his brother on several occasions, and he thinks very well of Missouri, especially Springfield, where, he says, the stranger finds a charming sociability. The people are very hospitable and upon meeting visitors their ambition is to make them feel at home.

On his way back Mr. Brady will stop off at St. Louis and will visit his nephew, Matthew Clark, who is studying for the priesthood at Kendriek seminary, Webster, Grove, Mo. The young theologian, student in a brother of Miss Marcelle and Thomas Clark of this city. Mr. Brady will also visit relatives in Chicago and will spend a few days in Philadelphia and New York. He expects to be gone about three weeks.

MILL ANNOUNCES
QUARTERLY DIVIDEND

The Massachusetts Cotton Mills announced today a continuation of the regular dividend rate upon its stock shares. This is regarded as a good indication of the excellent business this corporation is now doing for full time is the rule with some departments operating on three shifts each week. There appears to be no reduction in the financial prosperity of this corporation, which has continued to pay the usual dividend right along. The stock is selling fairly high at the present time.

The dividend of $3 a share will be payable on Saturday, Feb. 10, at the treasurer's office, Room 443, Exchange building, on State street, Boston, to Treasurer Edward Lovering's official notice.

After a collision, it is good practice to have all bearings inspected.

GREB RETAINS TITLE

Light Heavyweight Champion

Awarded Decision Over Tommy Loughran

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Harry Greb of Pittsburgh successfully defended his American light-heavyweight title last night against Tommy Loughran, youthful Philadelphia challenger, in a 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden. The judges' decision displaced a minority of the fans.

Loughran was a defensive puzzle in the first round and in the second he poked several stiff lefts to the champion's face. The challenger added a few more in the third while Greb pranced wildly about swaying with-out effect.

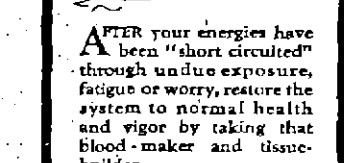

They exchanged more evenly during short rallies in the fourth.

Grebe landed two hard right jabs during the fifth but was cautious to stop butting with his head. Both men tried unsuccessfully for an opening in the sixth. Greb remained baffled although Loughran was generally on the defensive in the seventh, but in the eighth the champion quickened the pace, trading the challenger willing to exchange. Greb had the edge of some loose fighting in the ninth. Greb tore out wildly in the tenth. He smashed Loughran's stomach hurting the challenger and slowing him up, but in the 11th both took it easier. Greb had the better of hard exchanges in the 12th but was again warned to stop butting.

Grebe, after having the best of the slugging in the 13th was amazed when Loughran lashed out with both hands to the body in the 14th. Greb soon quelled the challenger, however, and won the 15th. Loughran rocked the champion in the last round when he made his best showing.

ABE FRIEDMAN BEATS PADDY OWENS

BOSTON, Jan. 31.—Abe Friedman of Boston, retained his New England bantamweight championship last night when he scored a technical knockout over Paddy Owens of Cambridge. The referee stopped the bout which was scheduled for 10 rounds, in the sixth.

HELD ANNUAL LADIES' NIGHT

The annual Ladies' night of the Downtown Men's club of the First Congregational church was held at the club last night and was largely attended. A very enjoyable supper was served by a committee composed of the following: Mrs. L. M. Haver, chairman; Mrs. Herbert J. Ball, Mrs. C. M. McEvoy, and Mrs. A. I. Jones. An informal social was held before and after the supper and proved very pleasing to all who attended. The club granted the guests and introduced as the entertainer of the evening Mr. Walter Trubey of North Chelmsford, who kept the guests interested for almost an hour with sleight-of-hand tricks and other magic. At the conclusion of his program he was accorded a vote of thanks for his work.

CHURCHES WILL HOLD UNION SERVICES

During the month of February the Paige Street and Worthen Street Baptist churches will hold union services, alternating between the two buildings, under the direction of the pastor of the Worthen street church, Rev. W. J. Setzer. The Sunday morning services will be held in the Worthen Street building and the evening services in the Paige street edifice. The weekly services will be held one week in one building and the next in the other building.

The first of these union services will be held next Friday at the Paige street church at 7.30. The subject of the meeting will be "The Treasures of the Church—the Bible," and will be the first of a series on the subject, "The Treasures of the Church."

BENEFIT DANCE AND CONCERT

A dance and concert for the benefit of the Boston & Maine orphans' officers will be conducted tomorrow evening in Assoluto hall. As a special attraction the following will entertain the audience with musical selections: Raymond Kelly, Frederick Cummings, Chas. Clancy, John McCardie and James Jones. The affair is in charge of the following committee: John Delaney, chairman; Robert Holmes and Thos. Hogan.

No Increase for Teachers

Mr. Riley being recorded as "not prepared to vote."

As a result of the recent report upon the structural condition of the Edison school by Building Inspector Francis A. Connor, in which he stated rooms on the second floor are set in vibration by group exercises and the floors of which show considerable "sag," Supt. Molloy recommended to the committee that school space be found elsewhere to accommodate the children in those rooms and it was so voted.

"It may not be good politics for me to oppose this increase," said Mayor Donovan, speaking on Mr. Bruin's motion, "but I cannot remain true to my inaugural declarations and uphold it. If we vote this increase, it means more will follow and before we reach the end of the road, we will have eaten up more than $100,000. No, I cannot vote for it, even though my own son is a public school teacher and I know he needs the money as much as anyone else in the department."

Mr. Delaney said the idea of group increases is all wrong and in opposing the proposition stated it was the very first time he had voted against a salary increase for teachers since becoming a member of the committee.

Mrs. Pearson asked Mr. Bruin why he had not included high school teachers in his blanket motion and although the latter said he did not recognize a right on the part of any member to proposition to elementary grade teachers, he did reply to Mrs. Pearson to the effect that he felt there was too wide a gap between the maximum of grade teachers and high school teachers.

"Does that answer your question?" asked Mr. Bruin.

"Well, it answers it," replied Mrs. Pearson, "but not satisfactorily."

Although the meeting was called for the purpose of discussing salaries and the 1923 budget, the latter was not reached, so prolonged was the debate on other things. When 11 o'clock was reached there was some discussion as to whether the session would continue for budget consideration, but finally it was decided to hold a special meeting Thursday at 5.30 p. m. at which only the budget will be discussed.

In order to allow school children to participate in the Winter Carnival tomorrow, it was voted to close the schools at the afternoon recess hour.

Supt. Molloy was authorized to attend the national convention of superintendents at Cleveland during the week of Feb. 26, the expenses of his trip to be borne by the department.

By a unanimous vote, Mrs. Lilla Roche Robbins was elected a drawing supervisor at a salary of $1700 per year.

A request was received to place instructors in machine shop work at the Vocational school on the same schedule as high school teachers. William Larkin representing the International Association of Machinists, spoke in favor of the proposition, as did Mr. Delaney, with Mr. Bruin upholding the opposition. Considerable argument ensued, but no decision resulted.

Mr. Delaney moved that the salary of Miss Catherine V. Hennessy, assistant in music, be placed at $1550, which is not an increase, for she is a new teacher.

Mrs. Pearson expressed the belief she could start at $1250, as an elementary grade teacher.

The motion prevailed, four to three, with Mr. Bruin, Mrs. Pearson and Mr. Riley against, and Mr. Delaney in favor.

The Obstinate Cough

Is an obvious cause for worry and anxiety for it may lead to something more serious. The direct cause is inflammation of either the bronchial tubes or the lungs. Inflammation may be caused by a cold or by a germ. In either case it is folly to ignore the danger. A remedy has been perfected for lung and bronchial troubles that is performing remarkable cures. The obstinate lung and bronchial cough yield to its action when all other remedies have failed.

Soreness and congestion disappear after a few doses have been taken, often within 24 hours. It has cured many bronchial coughs that were pronounced incurable. Many supposed consumptive cases have been restored to robust health by its use. This remarkable remedy is called and is sold for 50 cents by the following Lowell druggists:

Riley, against, and Mr. Delaney, Mr. Mullin, Dr. Slaughter and Mayor Donovan in favor.

Mr. Bruin then presented his arguments for salary increases for elementary grade teachers, with the final disposition as above-mentioned.

The superintendent presented a communication from the Teachers' organization, asking for a flat increase of $200 and an additional $150 for high school teachers for extra time spent in instruction in afternoon classes.

Mr. Riley felt no particular group of teachers should be singled out for increase, and added that the only group possibly undetached at present are primary school principals.

On the question of voting $150 to high school teachers as additional compensation for work being done, a motion embodying it passed.

On the motion of Mr. Mullin, that the salary of Miss Gertrude O'Brien, assistant in music, be placed at $1500, dating from Jan. 1, all voted in favor except Dr. Slaughter, who said she was not prepared to vote. It was brought out that Miss O'Brien's present salary of $1550 is the same voted her when she entered the department three years ago and now she is filling the place made vacant by the resignation of Miss Haeger, who was receiving $1500 when she left the service.

Business Agent Henry L. Williams presented weekly payrolls for January, totaling $11,977.66 and unpaid bills from 1922 amounting to $15,745.34 for approval.

"I will not approve them," said the mayor, speaking of the bills.

"Nor will I," said Mr. Bruin.

The mayor explained he had no knowledge of the bills left over from last year and was not prepared to vote intelligently upon their approval.

Mr. Williams explained that some of the bills were received too late for payment with the December draft, while regulations or invoices covering others had been left unapproved by the mayor of last year.

Mr. Riley moved the bills be approved and it was so voted, with the mayor and Mr. Bruin not voting.

Mr. Delaney spoke on the matter of purchasing departmental supplies and offered a motion to the effect that hereafter all requisitions, except those covering perishables and emergency needs, be presented to the committee for investigation and approval. The motion was lost.

Mayor Donovan was delegated power to sign payrolls and regulations for the committee.

Mr. Delaney moved the committee go on record as favoring a new school in the South End district of not less than 35 rooms.

Superintendent Molloy said he did not believe the committee was ready to designate the needs of the district, although a building of some size is required there as soon as possible.

Mr. Delaney consented to leave out the designation as to the number of rooms, but suggested that the chairman and superintendent appear before the city council at its next meeting to urge action which will result in a school to replace the present Edison structure.

Mr. Mullin inquired of the business agent concerning the steam siren at school while voted last year. Mr. Williams said the whistle has not been purchased as yet.

Mayor Donovan stated he had been studying the matter and had learned there is a discarded steam whistle in excellent condition, at the Merrimack mills, which he believes can be purchased for three or four hundred dollars less than the cost of a new siren. The business agent was instructed to investigate and report to the committee.

After voting to defray the expenses incidental with sending Mrs. Pearson to Worcester on Friday to represent the department at a conference of superintendents and school boards, and naming Thursday at 5.30 p. m. as the time for a budget session, the committee adjourned.

RADIO RACE IS OVER

Now Fans Want Simple Sets That Bring Better Results

After the exciting race for "bigger" radio receiving sets, amateurs of the country are finally settling down to wait for the simplest form of receiver they can buy, which will at the same time bring in a broadcast concert from a reasonable distance.

The race for more tubes, for radio and audio-frequency amplifiers is weakening. Instead there has come a steady demand for the simplest form of apparatus that will do the work required. Super-regenerative, super-heterodyne and any other super sets are only subjects of experiment. The added effect they produce does not as yet compensate for the amount of extra parts and extra complications put into them. Radio bugs are toying with such sets, but the large majority of radio fans—those who wish to sit down and enjoy a concert of an evening—don't want to be bothered with such complicated affairs.

Besides, they cost much more money. And that is one reason why crystal sets are coming back into popularity. They are cheaper than the vacuum super receivers, and they receive concerts from broadcasting stations up to 50 miles distant even more clearly than do the tube sets.

And money isn't the only advantage the crystal set has over the other. There's no bother with A and B batteries, with tubes and rheostats and transformers and there is no oscillation which causes squealing and a poor entertainment for the listener.

Radio engineers are working on processes by which they could simplify the receiving set, and already considerable progress has been made. Radio dealers assure them their final product will have a large market, for purchasers already show the mind of the radio novice is directed toward the use of a simple receiver.

The radio receiver has ended being a plaything and experimental subject and has entered the realm of useful entertainment.

BROADCAST MUSIC IN YOUR POCKET

RADIO FANS CAN BE FORECASTERS

Radio fans can make good weather prophets if they study the action of their receiving sets.

For weather afar off affects the set. For instance, if the receiver is tuned in on a station 500 miles away, and the water brings in the concert more faintly than ever, it is an indication of low barometric pressure and therefore of a storm or other form of bad weather in the region of the broadcasting station.

Then if the fan tunes in stations

neurer and nearer home, he can almost follow the direction and speed of the storm. By simple calculations, the amateur radio fan can become amateur weather prophet by telling when that storm will reach his city; it is coming his way.

With practice, the radio listener can startle his guests by such prophecies.

BANK DIRECTORS GUESTS OF MR. WOODWORTH

President Artemus B. Woodworth of the Lowell Co-operative bank was last night host for the bank directors at a delightful complimentary banquet served by the Page company at the institution headquarters. The reception arrangements were in charge of Directors Arthur A. Stewart and Charles C. Drew.

Responding to the toast, "The Lowell Co-operative Bank," Director Geo. H. Taylor alluded to the many interesting experiences he had had during his connection with the institution. He said the bank was steadily advancing in growth and activities. In 1920 it ranked twentieth among the 205 banks of the state. In 1922 it ranked ninth. The assets are increasing at the rate of $50,000 to $60,000 per month and at present are about $3,232,000. It is predicted that the bank will reach the four million mark during the present year. Stanley B. Qua, for 13 years attorney for the bank, had high praise for the institution's splendid record of progress. Director Frank E. Bramhall told witty stories and read a poetic tribute to President Woodworth.

At the brief business meeting, Treasurer Drew presented his quarterly report showing total income, aside from dues and repaid dues, of $15,957.57, from which he recommended that a dividend be declared at the rate of 24 per cent, leaving $2500 to be added to the surplus and guaranty funds. This was unanimously voted.

Those present at last night's meeting included President Artemus B. Woodworth, Vice-President Francis E. Appleton, Treasurer Charles C. Drew, Directors William D. Brown, George H. Taylor, Oliver H. P. Green, Warren F. Sanborn, Adam Cochran, Stephen W. Abbott, John Kerr, Frank E. Bramhall, Benjamin W. Clements, Herbert L. Bishop, Arthur A. Stewart, Arthur Bartlett, Walter H. Dorr, Frank B. # MISS CHENEY ADDRESSES EDUCATIONAL CLUB

"What Can We Women Do to Help Our Country in Time of Difficulty?" was the subject of an extended address given yesterday afternoon before the members of the Educational club in the Central M. E. church by Miss Blanche Cheney of the State Normal school faculty. Preceding the lecture, Pres. Mrs. H. J. Maguire announced that the committee on the constitution and by-laws had reported progress and that the results would be voted upon by the members of the club.

After covering the history of the unrest and chaos that has followed the World war in many countries of the globe, Miss Cheney declared that while the American democracy is a glorious experiment, "we will always have our problems and it is a good thing to have them." She felt, notwithstanding America's proud position, that we ought not to look upon our own position with rose-colored glasses. She referred to the troubles that affect the industrial situation right and left, in the strife in many places, the lack of co-operation between employers and employees in many sections of the land and in many industries.

The speaker referred to industrial democracies and political democracies. As for the former, she said co-operation and profit-sharing are considered necessary for the working people to have, or something of that kind where the laboring man and woman can have a larger share in the profits of their labor.

"This problem will not come for settlement in our time, but men are thinking and working along this line and it must come," said Miss Cheney. She described various principles that must be adopted in order to secure mutual understanding between the workers and "those with the money driving power."

The speaker denounced child labor, the K.K.K. campaigns, illiteracy and the lack of good leaders in civic affairs. Speaking of the so-called welfare bill, Miss Cheney stated that there are today more than 3,000,000 little children working in the cotton mills of the south and canyons of the west, which was a situation that should be remedied.

As for the bringing up of little children, the speaker said, in closing: "To bring about this responsibility, the child must be taught to serve as must the grown-ups. The children love to serve. Train first the child and then you will have later the true American citizenship, able to battle with the many great problems which they in the future will have to face."

Two poems from American democracy closed the Cheney address that was thoroughly enjoyed from beginning to end.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK AND BEAUTIFUL

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, stricken or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which was messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Woolly's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does not so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Adv.

What is rheumatism? Pain only. St. Jacobs Oil will stop any pain, so quick, so sure.

Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs oil directly upon the tender spot and relief comes instantly. St. Jacobs Oil is a harmless rheumatism and a natural liniment which never disappoints and can not burn the skin.

Lumber up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle from your druggist and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic and neuralgic pain, soreness, stiffness and swelling. Don't suffer! Relief awaits you. Old, honest St. Jacobs Oil has cured millions of rheumatism sufferers in the last half century and is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains and swellings.—Adv.

DESROUSERS SENTENCED

Was Drunk When He Took Three Children for Fatal
Ride in Rowboat.

FALL RIVER, Jan. 31.—John Desrosiers, saved from the icy waters of Cole's river at Swansea when three children were drowned on January 21, after their rowboat capsized late yesterday, was convicted of drunkenness and sentenced to 30 days in the house of correction but was acquitted on three charges of manslaughter. It was alleged that Desrosiers was intoxicated when he took the three children for a row.

JIMENEZ CRITICALLY ILL

MADRID, Jan. 31.—A report that Gerónimo Jimenez, the composer, had died, was erroneously circulated last night. Jimenez, who is a member of the Academy of San Fernando, is critically ill and yesterday received the last rites of the church, but was still living today.

Are You Fat?
Just Try This

Thousands of avaricious people have become slim by following the advice of doctors who recommend Marmola Prescription Tablets, those harmless little fat reducers that simplify the loss of the famous Marmola Prescription. THE ART OF WEAVING

WHEN JOHN KAY invented the fly shuttle nearly two centuries ago he led the way for a series of inventions which revolutionized the art of weaving. Today textile machinery weaves fabrics of delicate texture surpassing the beauty of those created by the master hand of old.

The American Woolen Company has through its leadership in introducing better machinery and better methods enriched the treasure trove of the weaver's art. It has raised the standard of cloth and lowered the cost of production, enabling the public to buy better clothing at lower prices.

And this has been accomplished through the co-operation of the employees. More than 35,000 workers in fifty-nine mills are producing fabrics which lead the world for their "per dollar" values. A fair and square deal to one and all, clean and healthful surroundings and the happiness and contentment which profitable employment gives are as essential to high class workmanship as is efficient and up-to-date equipment.

BUICK SHOWS THIS WEEK AT SALESROOM

The complete line of models, 14 in all, is on display at the Buick show held at the salesroom opposite the Auditorium. This display gives the people interested in automobiles an opportunity to study the advances made in this popular line of cars. Both Mr. Emerson and Mr. Hale of the Lowell Buick company voiced themselves in these terms:

"When the complete Buick line for 1923 was introduced to the motoring public, motorists had the privilege not only to see but to purchase motor cars that were considerably in advance of the current trend of automobile design. Motorists at once recognized the advance made in design, with the result that sale of the 14 line vehicles carrying the Buick nameplate for 1923 has been tremendous. It is still continuing at a rate which surpasses by far the fondest expectations of the Buick factory."

"Discriminating motorists realized that Buick always builds on the experiences of the past, developing definite principles, and, in addition, anticipates the demands that larger and finer motor cars, producing vehicles of advanced design."

"Frankly, that is one of the causes underlying Buick's success year after year. It is well known in the industry and is almost equally well known by the motoring public."

"Buick's continuous experience, both engineering and manufacturing, is so valuable, and when combined with this policy of anticipation it gives Buick the reputation of being the standard of comparison—and advance in design."

"A motorist familiar with the general trend of motor car design can readily discover these things for himself in a casual examination of the Buick line. He will notice in general many changes that improve the operation, or the comfort, or the convenience of every unit of the car, from the engine to the smallest detail."

vin. Jefferson, Irving, Brew, Dusa, Bernhardt, Modjeska, Ellen Terry, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Fiske, Julia Love and Marie Adams will be among the great dramatic artists to be considered.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE
Alfred de Lord as Richard, Clarke, "The Meanest Man in the World," playing at the Lowell Opera House this week, is proving a worthy successor to the part that George St. John made famous in New York. This young and versatile member of Al Lutteringer's stock company, who is literally taking Lowell by storm, in the two short weeks that it has been here, proved his capacity in his latest role. In a stock company where, now every week with the different plays, it is only the exceptional actor or actress that manages to secure the title and formal manner that is the basis of all stock company artists, Harry Anne Dentele is one of those, however, who, by her own efforts, personality forbids any of her characters that she portrays from degenerating into a mere caricature, and even savors of the trite and colorless.

Last week the exquisite leading lady of the new stock company was Miss Kate, first of the herculean and an occasional reading. This week she has assumed an entirely different character in the role of the heroic, delicate, and Hudson, who is battling to save her father's business. Stage managers from the big towns are keeping a watchful eye on Miss Dentele's progress and in the opinion of the Lowellites who have watched her performance during the past two weeks she has all the requisites to make of her a real star. Nearly all the great actresses of modern times have made their debut in the same role, and it is likely that Miss Dentele and Alfred de Lord top have possibilities for further advancement.

"The Meanest Man in the World," the success of the performance is due to the excellent balance of the company as much as the brilliancy of its two outstanding stars. The minor characters are acted with the same artistic skill that is noticeable in the leading parts—the result of long experience and excellent training.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Two big productions of the stage, adapted for the screen by expert directors, are the underlined attractions for Thursday and Friday at the Merrimack Square theatre. "Clarence," a William de Mille production, based on the famous play by Booth Tarkington and "Anna Ascends," another big Paramount photoplay with Alice Brady in the leading role, are the features for the week-end.

"Clarence" is a sentimental comedy, without question, ever written for the American stage. When it was produced at the Hudson theatre in New York City, it was the only play which was unanimous in so praising it. Now as a photoplay with a superb cast it affords even greater triumph.

Primarily the story is one long succession of hilarious situations. Clarence is an ex-soldier, but before the war he was a schoolboy, who is, of course, the highest authority on all things and bugs. When he receives his discharge he is not sure about getting a job, and so he goes to the office on a temporary job instead. By deft maneuvering he becomes a sort of Jack-of-all-trades with the Wheeler family, for "Clarence" is a family comedy, coming to the rescue of every member of the family. Very soon all of the female members of the family, in addition to their friends, have fallen in love with him, but he has singled out the one that he wants, even despite the fact that she is a fortune teller, and he is a fortune teller. In the long run, however, he manages to have things work out all right, not only for himself, but for all of the other members of the family. It is a story, a brief synopsis of which cannot do it justice, for there are so many points of humor, both subtle and uproarious, to it. In addition, Clarence has a map for the saxophone, so that something of the result can well be imagined.

"Anna Ascends," the second feature for the week-end, is adapted from the stage play in which Alice Brady scored her greatest triumph. It is a story of a Syrian girl, ignorant, but anxious to learn, coming to New York for the struggle to become a famous actress. She is not a fortune teller, but she is a fortune teller. Gradually she rises from her humble beginnings, and, inspired by a great love that comes to her, she becomes a cultured and successful woman. In every sense of the word it makes one of the greatest dramas of a woman's soul ever written.

A comedy and the latest Merrimack production for the minstrel show under the direction of Major John O'Brien.

The following O.M.E. football players are requested to report at the Cadet armory tomorrow evening at 7.30 o'clock to prepare for the snow football game with the Butler A.A. in connection with the Port Hall carnival.

NORTON SAYS HE GAINED 24 POUNDS

Declares Tanlac His Best Investment—Ended Stomach Trouble of 4 Years' Standing

"I have gained twenty-four pounds of firm, solid flesh since taking Tanlac, and I am now twenty pounds heavier than I ever was in my life," declared Lucius N. Norton of 32 Richards St., West Haven, Conn., recently. "For four years I suffered from indigestion that I was almost a physical wreck and I wonder now how I ever pulled through. I endured all sorts of misery from gas, pain, bloating, eruptions, heartburn and headaches and several times I got so dizzy I fell right down. Sleep was almost a stranger to me and I got up mornings feeling 'all in'."

"Getting Tanlac was the best investment I ever made in my life, for it put an end to all my troubles and now my appetite is as keen as a razor, and I believe I could sleep in a boiler-ship. Tanlac has also done my wife a world of good. It hasn't an equal."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists.

THE STRAND

In "The Lights of New York," the startling and highly interesting photoplay by William Fox, which is to be featured at the Strand on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the author turns the searchlight of his keen understanding of human nature on both sides of life as it is lived in New York City. One of the unique episodes deals with the average Metropolitan family life, the temptations of the city which the youth of New York must meet and overcome. It shows how a young man dashes down the path of recklessness into extreme difficulties. The other shows the fall of a man who comes to the upper class and his scramble for great wealth. It reflects in a measure what comes to those who flirt with Vice street and the uncertainty and danger of the life of a fortune teller, and the misery it brings when one is not on the right side of the movement of stock and bonds. McDermott, whose past characterizations on the screen stamp him as one of the very best in his line, will appear in the principal male role, and Estelle Taylor, an actress of recognized ability, will play opposite him. The remainder of the cast is complete. You'll learn things about New York that you have never known before. See it.

Charles (Buck) Jones in "West of Chicago" will be the second feature, and this will present a new phase of western story that will prove entertaining. The comedy, weekly and musical numbers will make the program excellent.

WHEN KIDNEYS HURT DRINK MORE WATER

If Your Back Aches or Bladder

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health. When your kidneys feel like lumps or lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night, if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, cold stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv.

yesterday and blow up the front part before leaving.
Soon after the destruction of Sir Horace's house became known, word was received here that the coast guard station at Balbriggan was destroyed early this morning by raiders who set off three powerful land mines. The terrific explosion shattered the windows of nearby houses and the inhabitants fled from their homes in terror. Telephone and telegraph wires were cut before the mines were exploded.

Wages, according to a message received today at local police headquarters, Booth, etc., was wanted in New Haven, Conn., for obtaining money under false pretenses and this is how he swindled a New Haven lawyer out of $2500. Under the name of Henry Booth, he visited the Second National bank in New Haven and asked to be introduced to some competent attorney.

He was introduced to the attorney and asked him that he held a note for $2500 against a man named Myron T. Killingsworth, 1606 N. Jackson avenue, Wilmington, Del. He desired the lawyer to collect it. The attorney wrote to the address given and in a few days Booth called and was informed that the check had arrived. After dodging his commission, the lawyer gave him his personal check and both went to the bank where Booth had it cashed. He told the lawyer that he desired to hire a safety box to place the money in. He was seen, as the lawyer supposed, to have placed the money in the box.

The next day the lawyer became suspicious and had one of the officers of the bank communicate with the Union and National bank of Wilmington, Del., on which bank the check was drawn, and was informed that the whole transaction was a fraud; also that the name of the cashier signed to the check was a forgery.

Booth is at present believed to be operating north of Boston and it is for this reason that Lowell lawyers are being warned to be on the lookout. The man in question is described as being about 42 years of age, 5 feet, 4 inches in height, slender build, sallow complexion, smooth face, dark hair, bald on top and sometimes wears a wig.

and signed "Law Abiding," born a Hot Springs, Ark., postmark. It was intimated that the state authorities would call the letter to the attention of the department of justice agents and in Morehouse parish, gathering evidence in connection with the kidnapping which culminated in the death of Watt Daniel and T. F. Richard of Mer Rouge on Aug. 24. The mayor said the letter had been forwarded to Governor Parker and would also be referred to Attorney General Cocco for investigation. He believed it might throw some light on the kidnappings.

The writer warned the mayor to "back up and get out of town within 10 days of receipt of this notice." It continued:
"You have never been any good as a man or as a citizen. Use your own judgment, and either leave or become a corpse."

TURKS WANT MORE TIME

Ask for Delay of Two Weeks
Before the Signature of
Peace at Lausanne

French Delegation's Attitude
Brings Conference to Brink
of an Impasse

LAUSANNE, Jan. 31 (By the Associated Press).—Lumet Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation to the Near East conference, asked the conference today for a delay of two weeks before the signature of peace and a delay of eight days before a meeting of the conference commission. The interval would be employed, he explained, in striving by every means to reach an agreement.

On Brink of Impasse

LAUSANNE, Jan. 31 (By the Associated Press).—The French delegation's announcement that it would stay here as long as there were prospects of agreement with Turkey led to complications among the allies which brought the Near East conference today to the brink of an impasse. The French were understood to have the support of the Italian delegation. The British received the French announcement as a violation of an understanding that if Turkey did not sign the treaty upon its presentation, the powers would withdraw.

Lord Curzon planned to make a long speech on the treaty today. All the delegations, including the Americans, agreed that the negotiations could not be long protracted.
Lord Curzon in beginning his address said the primary object of the treaty was to bring to an end the terrible and devastating war which had desolated eastern Europe and large areas of Asia for more than eight years and thus enable all the various peoples, whether allied, Turkish or Greek, to go back to their homes. The treaty also was designed to enable the Turkish state which was vanquished in the war with the allies but victorious over Greece, to resume its place as a consolidated state and re-enter the comity of nations.

In the third place, said Lord Curzon, the treaty was intended to build up relationships of amity, good will and friendly intercourse on equal terms between the Turkish state and the other powers of Europe.

"This peace, reconstruction and co-operation are the three objects," he pointed out. "The question was how far had the conference succeeded in obtaining them in the documents presented today. It was far from thinking their labors had been in vain. A considerable amount of suspicion which had hung about the earlier meetings had been blown away by the breeze of Lausanne."

Lord Curzon said everyone regretted that there had not been an agreement as to every clause in the treaty, but time was pressing and Europe, and indeed the whole world, was waiting not for further debates but for results. Therefore, it was felt to be in the public interest that the proceeding should be brought to a termination, as he hoped they might be by common consent.

for an increase for Miss Rivel, chief clerk, from $1500 to $2000 and also for a new clerk, at $1000.

The request for an upward revision of the city treasurer's salary was not unexpected, inasmuch as he announced a week or so ago that he could not afford to hold the position any longer at the present salary of $1000 and would resign unless the city voted to place him upon a salary plane comparable with treasurers in other Massachusetts cities of Lowell's approximate size and smaller.

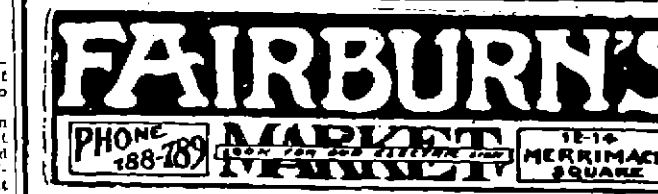

Previous to 1920 Mr. Bourke's salary was $2800. In that year it was increased to $3200, but was cut back to $2000 in 1922, along with other department heads who were receiving the same amount.

City Solicitor O'Sullivan feels any city solicitor should receive at least $4500 for his services and also points to salaries being paid such officials elsewhere.

It has been the contention of city solicitors for the past year or two that the work of the law department has expanded to such an extent as to require a man's undivided attention in submitting a provision for the increase aforementioned.

Thorne stated on several occasions that an assistant solicitor is a real need. There is no doubt that the enlarged demands upon the office have enlarged considerably within recent years and Mr. O'Sullivan feels justified in submitting a provision for the increase aforementioned.

THE COAL QUESTION

Congress has been urged to action very effectively by two Massachusetts men in reference to the coal shortage. These are Senator David I. Walsh and Congressman John Jacob Rogers. Senator Walsh with remarkable foresight started a campaign last June, the purpose of which was to induce Congress or the executive department to take some definite action with a view to the settlement of the coal strike. The senator was appointed one of the conferees on the part of the senate to adjust differences between the house and senate on bills to investigate the coal industry and curb profiteering. He has since endeavored to secure action by the Interstate Commerce commission to promote the distribution of coal by more efficient railroad service. He has also denounced the exportation of coal to Canada at a time when the people of this country are complaining of a shortage of coal to meet the bare necessities for domestic and industrial use.

In a speech delivered in the senate on August 24, 1922, Senator Walsh in demanding action by the government for the settlement of the coal strike made the following statement:

Mr. Walsh of Massachusetts. Mr. President, I am criticizing both the executive and the legislative branches of this government for their inaction. I am calling attention to a situation in which the senator from New York, Mr. Calder, called attention to the condition in his state. I am calling attention to the condition in New England, and I am asking this government if it is powerless, if it is impotent, if it is unable to cope with this situation. I am asking for action or for a confession by this government that it is helpless. I demand that our people know that we are not powerless and can only talk. I repeat, action ought to have been taken months ago. Early in June this whole situation was disclosed and discussed on this floor.

Are we to confess to the people that a great industry can conduct itself in such a manner and in such a way that our people will stand by and die because their government cannot find any way of helping them? Is our great democracy less alive to the necessity of safeguarding the right of the people than the autocracies of Europe?

Had the government acted upon the senator's demand, something might have been done to prevent the coal shortage and thereby to protect the people against the profiteering that has since taken place.

Congressman Rogers has also denounced the exportation of large quantities of coal to Canada at prices much lower than the coal can be purchased for by residents of the United States. Mr. Rogers has shown that the export of both hard and soft coal to Canada in 1922 was greatly in excess of the amount exported in 1921. It would seem, therefore, that in spite of the shortage of coal, Canada was a preferred customer. Canada was receiving large shipments of coal while different parts of the United States had great difficulty in securing enough for their immediate needs. Mr. Rogers has before Congress a bill to place an embargo upon the export of coal to Canada while a shortage prevails in the United States. There is no apparent reason why that bill should not become law, although it cannot wholly relieve the situation at the present time. If the export to Canada were stopped, there might be some reduction in the price to the American consumer who in some parts of the country is paying as high as $20 to $22 a ton for anthracite.

The Massachusetts house has endorsed the Rogers bill, a fact that indicates public sentiment of the people on the subject.

The inaction of the government at Washington has been responsible for whatever shortage of coal has prevailed since the beginning of the winter. As Senator Walsh urged last summer, the coal strike should have been stopped and the mines compelled to proceed with their work. If nothing else would bring about a solution of the difficulty, the government, as the senator suggested, should have seized the mines temporarily and conducted their operations.

CREATE YOUR SUCCESS

For 60 years Charles Sheath has worked in the same room. This room is an office in London, England. Sheath entered it when he was 14, as an office boy. While he is still in the same room, he is not on the same job. Today he is one of the head officials of the group of railroads that uses the small room as one of its offices. Success is locked up in the individual and where or how it breaks out is of secondary importance. The main point is to give it a chance and to remember that most of the successful men make their opportunities instead of merely wishing and hoping. The case of Sheath is mentioned as a notable example, but we have thousands of such here in this country and we have some of them in this city. Consider the case of Agent Mitchell of the Massachusetts mill, who now goes to China to start up textile factories in that country. He started in the textile business when a mere boy. Percy Guilford is another man who started at the bottom and now runs a mill of his own. A. C. Pollard when a boy worked for a weekly wage that would be regarded as an insult if offered to any boy today. But Mr. Pollard is now a merchant prince. Humphrey O'Sullivan started in business as a shoemaker, although he had learned the printing business; but he soon invented rubber heels, which brought him wealth and fame. So we might go on with instances of this kind to prove that successful men in most cases make their opportunities instead of wandering in search of them as if by chance. Remember that success has to be created, that it is not a plum already ripened and ready to pick at some far-off corner of the earth.

It is true that some men who have attained success might never have been able to do so in their native town; but in such a case the man who is made of the right stuff goes into a large community where his ability is recognized and there he attains distinction.

The man of tact can quickly realize where his peculiar talents are likely to be in demand. To that extent he will find it necessary to go in search of his opportunity, instead of waiting for something to turn up. Very often big men are lost in small communities in which opportunities for advancement are few and far between. Moreover, it is much more difficult to create success in a small country town than in a large city.

YOUNG RAILROAD KINGS

One of the outstanding romances of present-day railroading is the rapid rise of two young Cleveland real estate men to a stellar position among American railroad financiers. We refer to the Van Sweringen brothers—M. J. and J. D.—who have made progress in American railroad history that has been the most outstanding of any group since the days of Harriman.

Many railroads of today have suffered burdensome troubles and their officers have been sufficiently occupied in making both ends meet. The Van Sweringen brothers have been building up a combination of railroad lines such as have seldom been seen before in American railway organization circles. They have just bought the famous Nickel Plate from the New York Central group, paying $2,000,000 in cash out of a total purchase price of $3,500,000. More recently they bought the Lake Erie and Western, the bankrupt Clover Leaf (Toledo, St. Louis and Western), a few connecting lines, and now the Chesapeake and Ohio, one of the great coal-carriers. These systems total in actual value today more than $600,000,000.

These brothers, whose family name is not a common one and about whom little was really known until recently, appear to have the makings of real financiers. Who says there are no chances for able Americans to advance and become millionaires today? These men were poor boys once, but took advantage of their opportunities. Many millions of American boys have these same opportunities if they will but use them. The story of these two brothers is well worth reading. It contains much of the realism of actual life that sounds like romance.

ADVERTISING

If you read Dickens, you recall that Mr. Pickwick had his boots polished with Day & Martin blacking. Day & Martin was a real company, famous for generations. Now it is selling out—quitting business. Its managing director, with a troubled look in his eyes, explains: "We failed to keep up our advertising." It was advertising that "made" Day & Martin. But, like many other concerns, it thought that, once established, it no longer needed publicity. The public dies off and a new public is forever coming on the stage. This new public naturally has to be reached by advertisements, as otherwise it will not know of the advertiser. Even when it knows, it forgets quickly unless constantly reminded. Advertisers should keep in mind the fate of Day & Martin. It has many analogues in this country where advertising is even more necessary than in England.

HOME BREW POISONOUS

A hundred home-brewers send samples of their cellar hooch, for analysis, to W. G. Brown, prohibition commissioner in West Virginia. Brown reports that most of the samples are "absolutely dangerous for human consumption." Many of them contained the deadly bacillus botulinus, which causes botulism poisoning, more deadly than ptomaine.

For the stomach's sake, remember that the keg in which home-made hooch ferments is really a garbage can. The contents undergo the various stages of decomposition, decay and putrefaction.

The city of Nashua is to be congratulated on receiving a windfall of $95,900 through the will of Sarah J. Robinson of New York city. Mrs. Robinson distributed very generous gifts among different religious denominations in Nashua, showing that she was not at all sectional. Nashua should honor her memory by perpetuating her name in one of its finest public buildings, if not by a public park purchased by the funds thus bequeathed by its generous benefactress.

Arrangements for the coming Winter Carnival have brought a great demand for "knickers," toboggans, and skis, which is something new for Lowell. The carnival will undoubtedly afford many thousands of people some rare enjoyment in addition to bringing them out into the clear, crisp air and the fine scenery around Fort Hill park.

National Commander Owsley of the American Legion will be readily credited when he says that during his administration the Legion will take no part in the activities of the Ku Klux Klan. That, however, is a rather negative way of putting it.

The League of Nations is now willing to drop Article X from its Constitution which seems like pulling the bungles out of a barrel.

A Thought

His Philosophy
"I am a philosopher," admitted the gentleman whose frontispiece was a long and solemn face. "I am a philosopher," he said, "because I am not a philosopher."

The Cause Explained
There was a loud crash and a tinkling noise as the new tea-service which Jane was carrying out the back door of the kitchen. Almost immediately there was a patter and a clatter and the kitchen door opened to admit Jane's mistress. The mistress gazed with dismay at the mass of debris on the floor.

Great Historian
A valued old colored barber in a Virginia town reads history. He reads considerable history. It is real to him; the past lives in the present, and is a part of it. The other day a citizen hailed him. "Been reading French history, I see, Uncle Tobias?" "No," he answered. "I don't think of French history." "I like it. But I don't like the way Mista Napoleon been treating Mista Josephine hye lately."

The Bucket Counter
A party of holiday makers were paying their first visit to New York, and one of their number felt the need of buckets in a dredger at the docks seemed to possess a singular fascination. While the others went off to enjoy themselves, he stayed behind and kept his eye fixed on the dredger. Some hours later his friends, found him still at the same spot. "What are you doing there?" they asked. "I don't care," was the reply. "I'm waiting to see the last of those buckets if I stay here all night!"

A Silence
Chalmers Davenport said at a dinner in Chicago: "Deliver me from the bridge hands who after every hand tell you what would have happened if you had played such and such a card. When one of these fellows starts up his talk in my presence I always interrupt him. By the way, I say, 'did you ever hear the story of your uncle and your aunt?' No," he answers, and he looks expectant and impatient—wants the floor again, you see. "No. Let's have it, then," he says. "Your aunt had been a man she would have been your uncle." Marx Was Deaf Old Joe Rogers had been a lively stable keeper for years, but motor cars had spoiled his trade, so he retired, keeping his favorite stall with him for pottering about the town and keep him from being bored," he said. One day a man called to hire a horse; he had often been there before, but did not know that Joe had gone out of business. Said Joe: "I've nothing but old mules, you know. Sies! all right to drive, but no woman's pet and no shafts and tries to throw any one who attempts to ride her." "I'll try her," said the man. So the man was brought out and he rode her round the yard, the best making not the least objection. Joe was puzzled, but when he saw the man looking sideways at his leg, a hearty chuckle. "If his feet, she thinks she's in the shafts," he said.

A Legend
The angels in high places
Who minister to us,
Reflect Gods smile—their faces
Are luminous.
Save one, whose face is hidden,
(The Prophet saith)
The unwelcome, the forbidden,
Azrael, angel of Death.
And yet that veiled face, I know
Is lit with pitying eyes,
Like those faint stars, the first to glow
Through cloudy winter skies.

That they may never tire,
Angels by God's decree,
Bear wings of snow and fire—
Preserve and purify,
Save one, all unavailing,
(The Prophet saith)
His wings are gray and trailing,
Azrael, angel of Death.
And yet the souls that Azrael brings Across the dark and cold,
Look up beneath those folded wings,
And find them lit with gold.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

There is little doubt in my mind but that the Winter Carnival will be better for having been postponed. This opinion is based on the fact that every day the boys and girls are practicing on skis and toboggans and the better skilled they are, the better the carnival will be. Whether there will be any worth while talent for the ski-jumping contests or not, is beyond me, for there is not a jump of any size anywhere but at Fort Hill park, and that has been at for use only in the last few years. Undoubtedly there will be many to attempt this feat, but nine chances out of ten there will not be any who can really classify as ski-jumpers, as practice and training are absolutely essential to the learning of this art. In another year we may be able to get some of the professional winter carnival teams here to furnish the action in this contest. But still the main idea is not to aid professional sports, but to get the people out in the fresh air, get them interested in winter sports, and in this way help to keep them in good physical condition.

Where all is excitement and where there is such a collection of details to be attended to, it is only natural that omissions will occur. Being but human, we regretfully omitted to mention the name of the genial Michael J. Burns as being one of the character of C. members who attended the dedicatory exercises Monday night. Mr. Burns was there all right, and no prouder man than he sat in the reserved front row and reminisced with his fellows on the stringing infant days of the "Caseys" down there on Middle street. Michael, though retired, is best remembered, perhaps, as the expert electrician of the local police department a few years back.

That the Memorial Auditorium is proving to be popular as a place for dancing parties is proven by the number of organizations which have held dances and the great number of people who have attended dances there. No week goes by without one or two successful parties there and everyone who has attended one of these speaks highly of its floor and of the conveniences of the building. Dancing in such a beautiful building certainly heightens the standards, for the undesirable methods of dancing seen occasionally in some of the regular dance halls are not even attempted there.

Interest in the New England dog show this year was never so intense, my friends down the canine circuit tell me. A number of the Lowell Kennel club who attended the show held two weeks ago, informed me that some of the arrangements made by the Lynn managers were rather obsolete and unprofitable for some of the out-of-town showings. For instance, there was a mix-up in the filing of dog entry blanks, with the result that some of the early entries were mislaid and slips mislaid. When owners, supposing their canines were properly entered, appeared at the dog show with pomeranians, Alfreddo or bull hound as the case might be, they were informed that no entries had been filed and the animals could not be shown in the prize classes. "It was a little unfortunate, to be sure," but should never happen. Entry blanks should not only be filed in good season, but proper returns made and promptly. If owners do not receive return slips, it is of course up to them to see if they get them or know the reason why.

Interest in the Lowell Kennel club show steadily increases. I am informed that this will be the biggest show ever held in Middlesex county, and I don't doubt a bit. A lot of good new dogs are on the way, I am told, but it is some little time yet for the May "Jousts," and who knows but what the list will be the biggest ever when the dates are announced and the entry blanks shipped out.

Among the disappointed dog owners who got caught on "lost entry blanks" at the Lynn A.K.C. show, was Mrs. M. J. Dineen of Braintree, who owns several fancy breed dogs. Her prize dogs, she was unable to enter her two shaft winners, Rex and Mignonette, at Lynn, because they told her that her application and entry blanks went astray somewhere. It does seem as if the Braintree fancier might have been allowed to exhibit, under the conditions, but the Lynn show managers were obdurate, I am informed.

MERRY DANCERS AT ASSOCIATE HALL

Associate hall was crowded last evening with merry dancers, the attraction being the first public social of the Saco-Lowell Mutual Benefit association. Dancing began at 8:30 and continued until midnight. There was a half-hour concert.

The organization today represents about two-thirds of the employers of the local Saco-Lowell shops, or about 1300 members. Each member pays dues of 10 cents a week, collected by representatives appointed for that purpose. Should a member be absent from work because of illness or other physical disability for more than seven days, on the eligibility of the member receiving 50 cents a week from the association at the rate of $1 a day, including Sundays. A representative from each of the 40 different rooms is elected yearly by the men employed in each room, the duty of the representative being to represent electors at the boards of directors' meetings.

The officers of the benefit association are: President, Frederick L. Pyne; vice president, Everett Warnock; secretary, E. B. Fiske; treasurer, Emory Hodge; finance committee, Everett Warnock, D. I. Walsh and Fritz Pearson. The committee in charge of last night's social included President Pyne, E. B. Fiske and the board of directors.

My salary commences
To vanish, ere it's earned,
I cannot meet expenses,
Though why, I've never learned,
In spite of how we plan, we Remain in debt and doubt,
We can't explain, nor can we Make it out.

We really ought to flourish,
My income's pretty good,
And yet we scarcely nourish
Our bodies as we should.
Our problem—who shall judge it?
There's just one way, we sigh,
"We've got to keep a budget—
Bye and bye."

Where does the money go to?
It's quite too tough for words,
To think of all we throw to
The little dicky birds.
A bank account we're craving,
Alas the dollars fly!
And we, instead of saving,
Buy and buy.

Some day, when we get to it,
We'll keep a ledger, planned
To show us, when we view it, Exactly how we stand;
But now—we merely fudge it,
And watch our debts run high,
We sure must keep a budget
Bye and bye!

KID WILLIAMS EQUALS RECORD

GAME TONIGHT
New Bedford at Worcester.

"Kid" Williams tied his season's record of nine goals and these with one by Harkins gave Lowell a 10 to 6 victory over the Providence Gulls in a fast polo game at the Crescent rink last night.

Williams was shooting fast and hard and fans were cheering wildly when the big horn ended the star's attempt to break the record. The "Kid" exhibition was a polo treat. He gave everything he had in the line of polo artistry and speed and he succeeded in caging the ball from all angles. His attack was well diversified. He scored one from the spot, he hammered another one through that required wonderful execution, when standing behind the cage to one side he applied sufficient "English" to twist the ball into the cage. He also scooped one in after passing it back and forth to Harkins three times right in front of the goal.

The crowd, which numbered about 100, certainly had the famous Bill Mount's number and must have had the Providence Gulls' cross-eyed trying to follow the star's play.

The "Kid" got valuable assistance from his side-partner, Capt. Harkins, who passed to him consistently. Frank MacFarlane also played a few times and also did some fine blocking, while Morrison and Lovgren in the back field were present with splendid defensive value.

Lowell jumped right out in front of the Gulls, with Williams getting four and Harkins one in the first period. While playing up Lowell also prevented the visitors from registering. Williams added another in the second period got underway. Here Providence came out to the attack with a "Honey Boy" Evans. Williams soon got in back, and the period ended 7 to 1 in Lowell's favor.

As the third session got underway the Gulls staged a whirlwind rally with four goals coming in consequence. With the count 7 to 5, Lowell came back with a big goal for Lowell. Wiley then landed another for Providence. Here Williams dashed to the stop, hit the ball and carried the ball right down the floor, through the enemy defense to plank the ball between Harkins' hands. In the first time out of the goal, Williams carried the ball and tied his record performance of a few weeks ago. When fans realized it they gave the local bash a great cheer and the crowd was "get another." He tried hard enough, but the expiration of time prevented further scoring. The lineup and score:

POLO NOTES
Next game Friday night with Portland as Lowell's opponents.

Frank Hardy, who took sick last Friday night in New Bedford, but who stayed in the game there and also at Worcester Saturday night, but who had been confined to his bed from Sunday until yesterday morning, ignored his doctor's advice and came up to play last night. He forgot all about his illness once the game started and he turned in a fine exhibition.

A large delegation from the Chalfour store greatly enjoyed the game, particularly Kid Williams' performance of nine goals, tying the record for the season, which he himself holds. Several of the nine were real thrillers. It's out to make it ten and home to accomplish the task on next Friday night.

The entire Lowell team played up to the mark last night and at times had the opposition bewildered by their classy team-work.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL LEAGUE

JOAST GIRL TENNIS STAR

Critics Evince Enthusiasm Over Sensational Playing of Miss Mayme McDonald

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Tennis critics evinced enthusiasm today over the sensational showing yesterday Miss Mayme McDonald of Seattle, Wash., made in the indoor invitation tournament of the Helixia Casino in which she lost a desperately hard fought match to Miss Benjamin E. Cole, the Boston star.

Experience enabled Mrs. Cole to defeat the coast girl but it required two hours for the easterner to do the match. The score was 6-3, 7-10, 3-6, and in the third set Miss McDonald three times was within a stroke of victory. It was the second time that Miss McDonald has played indoors, but she showed in varied style, speed, severe service and skilful play.

BILLY DUFFY FAST AND AGGRESSIVE BOXER

Billy Duffy of Everett, who is to meet Johnny Avila of this city in the feature event of the Moody club card at the Crescent rink tomorrow night, will be remembered by Lowell for his great battles here several years ago with Avila and Jimmy Duffy of New York.

At this time the New York Duffy was at his best. He had been meeting all the prominent lightweight and welterweights in and around New York, and just a few weeks before his first battle here with the Everett boy, he met Paul Doyle. Billy was just an individual star and while most battles of the Duffys the New Yorker won, but in the second meeting the Everett lad triumphed. In his battles with Avila, Billy showed his hitting abilities and also proved to be a very aggressive two-handed fighter. Duffy has been going great guns in Boston this season and many feel that he will win over the local boy.

Avila, however, who sprung back into the pugilistic limelight by knocking Jimmy Murphy in a sensational ten round battle on New Year's day, is in fine condition and he feels confident of duplicating his success against Duffy.

There are to be two semi-finals. In one Harry Foley of Boston and Willie Cole of New York are to perform, while in the other Jack Dalton of Boston and Johnny Gray of Nashua, a pair that recently engaged in a popular battle here, are listed to renew their rivalry. Jack Dalton, however, and Tommy Dalton of Boston are scheduled to open the show.

Billy Murphy, of the Acre, who is to meet Al Shubert, veteran star from New Bedford in the feature event at the Crescent rink, has had two matches in view. One will be in Boston on Feb. 13 and the other in Lawrence on Feb. 22. In meeting Shubert, Murphy will have a very tough fight, the greatest boys of his weight that ever boxed on a glove. Shubert has been boxing for a number of years and has in all his good fights won by a knockout.

On Monday night in New Bedford he won the decision over Young Manly, N. B. featherweight champion, who was defeated before the fight by Chick Suggs. Owing to the fact that Shubert was supposed to be a contender for the title Murphy is training hard for the battle. A large Lowell delegation headed by Mayor Donovan is expected to attend the bout.

BIG GAME AT CRESCENT RINK TONIGHT

After a much needed five day lay-off, the Butler and Broadway basketball teams are ready to resume court activities in the Crescent rink tonight. A win for the latter will mean the title as they have already two games ahead of the Butler.

The Butler, however, are just as determined to even matters up by taking this and the next game in a row. The Butler certainly played a wonderful game last week and it certainly was a disappointment to their followers to see the opposition come so strong in the last few minutes of play. The Butler felt sure that the victory was theirs up to those last few minutes when the Butler were defeated by a score of 15 to 10.

Because of the added interest created by the last hectic engagement, tonight's game will be of the super variety with both teams in the pink of condition and anxious to get to it and mix things up. Practically the same rivalry which faced each other last week will do duty again this evening. The Butler will be strengthened with the return of Loufarr, who works so well with the Butler and who has been out for some time.

Now that the City League championship for 1935 seems to have been settled at the Y.M.C.A. St. Peter's Cadets would like to hear from the Y.M.C.A. Also from the Centralville Independents and Butler Section. For games please call 1755-R.

GOLD CUP SKATING CHAMPIONSHIP

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Charles Gorman of St. John, N. B., and Harry Kasky, of Chicago, are tied for first place with 20 points each as the result of victories in the morning program of the Allendale gold cup skating championship races here yesterday. Gorman won the 220-yd. event in 15 seconds, after a battle with Charles Jewtraw, of Lake Placid, which ended when Jewtraw fell near the finish line and failed to make the start.

The one-mile event was won by William Steinmetz of Chicago, after Frank Gannett of St. John, N. B., failed to make the start. The play final lap, Kasky's time was two minutes, 54.4 seconds.

The one-half and three-quarter mile events were won by the local star, Clear star weather, with little wind, and perfect ice conditions were promised.

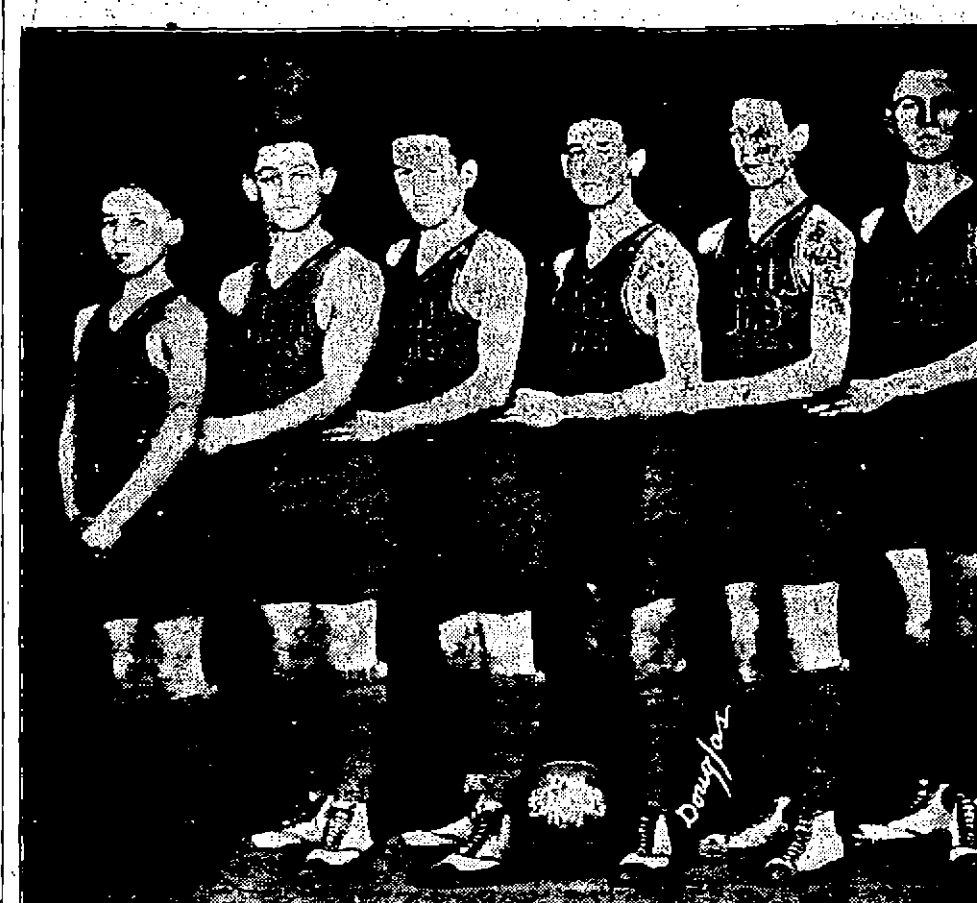

ST. LOUIS BROWNS NEED OUTFIELDERS
ST. LOUIS, Jan. 31.—Branch Rickey, manager of the St. Louis Nationals, said today that unless Cardinals uncovered several outfielders from among recruits, it would be better to subdivide the 1935 race and start building up for 1936.

Rickey stated he was well pleased with the infield, but that Melton's, Plack and Mueller, which might cause these two players some concern this season, presented a "most perplexing problem."

CITY LEAGUE BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

In virtue of their splendid 8 to 3 victory over the Belvideres in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium last night, the Y.M.C.A. Juniors basketball team are now champions of the City League. The "Prof" of the Juniors, who has been a single defeat. Each of the players on the champion outfit is an individual star and while most battles of the Juniors the New Yorker won, but in the second meeting the Belvideres triumphed. In his battles with Avila, Billy showed his hitting abilities and also proved to be a very aggressive two-handed fighter. Duffy has been going great guns in Boston this season and many feel that he will win over the local boy.

GOOD SPORT TONIGHT AT TRACK AND FIELD GAMES OF MILLROSE A. A.

As a preliminary to the Lowell high-school basketball game in the Millrose A. A. gymnasium, the Millrose A. A. will engage in a friendly combat to determine the championship of the local track and field. The "Prof" of the Juniors, who has been a single defeat. Each of the players on the champion outfit is an individual star and while most battles of the Juniors the New Yorker won, but in the second meeting the Belvideres triumphed. In his battles with Avila, Billy showed his hitting abilities and also proved to be a very aggressive two-handed fighter. Duffy has been going great guns in Boston this season and many feel that he will win over the local boy.

Unusual interest is attached to the first eastern appearance of Jole Roy crack Chicago distance runner who is slated to start in a special mile and one-half event. His opponents are expected to include R. E. Brown of Boston, former Cornell star; Ray Baker of Chicago; Walter Higgins of Columbia, intercollegiate cross-country champion; and W. A. Rittler, Jr., of Philadelphia.

William Rittler, Finnish-American runner, who recently shattered the world four-mile indoor mark, is entered in a three-mile race while starters in sprint events are expected to include Leroy of Lafayette, intercollegiate champion; Robert McAlister, New York's "flying cop" and Louie Hutchinson.

The field performers in middle distance features includes Earl Eddy, former Pennsylvania star, who is attempting a comeback this season; Tom Campbell, Yale track captain; Melvin Smith, of Syracuse; and Alvin H. Irish, of Penn State, national half-mile champion.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The United States Golf association plans a membership campaign to include as many as possible of the local clubs in the nation devoted to the ancient Scotch game. It was learned today.

The total in the country, now an either active or allied members of the association.

"BLONDY" ROMIG RETIRES
NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—John "Blondy" Romig, noted runner, who was a member of the famous Penn State relay and cross-country teams, and who also won the national indoor two mile championship last year, has retired from competition. It was learned today.

PLAYED THE GAME
The 7th Grade five of St. Patrick's school tied the St. Patrick's Midsets last Friday night, the score being 12 to 12. Chick Chandler's playing featured.

ENFORCEMENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The effect of prohibition enforcement in California according to a survey by M. F. Rutter, state director, based on juvenile court statistics and testimony of probation officers, divorce court judges and welfare commissioners is "most apparent in that broad region of wretchedness and unhappiness which intervenes between private domestic happiness and public prisons" rather than "in the records of the more serious crimes."

The survey which was made public today by the information bureau of the prohibition unit says the annual number of arrests for drunkenness in California declined from an average of 37,308 in the three years period prior to prohibition to 14,456 in the three subsequent years, while juvenile court cases declined from 1299 to 1025. Deaths from alcoholism in the two years immediately following the beginning of prohibition enforcement it says averaged 55 a year, while in the five preceding years the average was 304.

LOWELL CHORAL
SOCIETY REHEARSAL

The regular rehearsal of the Lowell Choral society was held last evening in the parish house of All Souls' church in East Merrimack street. There was a good attendance, and Director Eusebius G. Hood of Nashua was well satisfied with the result of the evening's work. The society is preparing Verdi's "Aida" for its annual spring concert and the director hopes that all the former members of the society will attend the rehearsal as it is proposed to increase the membership to 250.

SAYS AGRICULTURE
IS GETTING BETTER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Agriculture from a financial standpoint is getting better although the farmer's dollar opened the new year with a purchasing power equal to 65 cents before the war.

For the last year the average index number of the purchasing power of farm products in terms of other commodities that farmers buy was 68, an increase of two points over 1921, but a decrease of 17 points from the 1920 average, according to department of agriculture index figures just completed.

December improved over November an increase of five points having been shown in the index number of the average farm prices of 10 leading crops and a decrease of 1 point in the price of commodities excluding farm and food products that farmers buy.

LAST WORD IN LIGHT VESSELS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Nantucket shoals, off the Massachusetts south coast, one of the most important lightship stations in the world, and the point where many an incoming traveler gets his first glimpse of America, will be marked within a few months by the last word in light vessels.

One of the new lightships under construction at Bath, Me., will replace the present ship on Nantucket south shoals. It will have a radio fog signal to warn ships which pass, will be equipped with electrical signal lights and will have an oscillator in place of a submarine bell for use during fog. The new vessel will be fully equipped for radio communication.

MOTORISTS MUST PAY

Threat to Abandon Road Building Unless Autoists Agree to Tax on Gasoline

SALEM, Jan. 31.—Between 600 and 700 employees in the spinning mill of the Naumkeag Steam Cotton Co. struck this morning because of the employment for a year of a non-union frame fixer, who, they say, has refused to join the union. The alleged refusal of the management to discharge this one man occasioned this forenoon's walkout. A conference is being held between John P. O'Connell, local agent of the Textile Workers' and J. Foster Smith, agent of the mills to see if the matter can be adjusted.

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Jan. 31.—That he will abandon his entire road building program, unless the motorists of the state accept the proposal for a two-cent tax upon each gallon of gasoline to be used in motor vehicles, was strongly intimated by Governor Cox today at a conference with representatives of the motor industry.

Suffered Breakdown After Husband's Death

Was in a Serious Condition Until She Began Taking Wincarnis

"During my husband's illness I had practically worn myself out through work and worry, and so when he passed away, I had almost reached a state of collapse. I would feel so exhausted that I would feel I could go to bed, and yet when night came I could get no sleep. I was so fearfully weak that I could do almost nothing. I read one day about Wincarnis and decided to try it, and it certainly has done wonders for me. I began to improve wonderfully and by the time I had taken the first bottle my appetite had come back, I was much less nervous and was getting some sleep at night. I have taken only a few bottles and now I am entirely well. I feel like a new woman and I really feel like a new woman."

FOR REMOVAL OF MAYORS

Bill Would Give Governor and Council Power to Oust for Cause Any Mayor

At Present Time Mayor May Commit Any Sort of Crime and Retain His Office

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Jan. 31.—The mayor of any city may commit any sort of crime in the criminal calendar, he may be jailed for a long term of years, and yet from behind the prison bars he is permitted, under the law as it stands today, to continue as the chief executive of his city.

This statement was made before the committee on cities today, by Senator Abbott B. Rice of Newton, as justification for his bill providing that the governor and council may, for cause, remove the mayor of any city in the state.

To demonstrate his truth, Senator Rice declared that only a few years ago, in the city of Lawrence, the condition actually existed. "The then mayor of the city was sent to jail," he said.

TO FURTHER STRENGTHEN ENFORCEMENT LAWS

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 31.—Legislation which prohibits Communism Haynes will ask the various states to pass, to further strengthen enforcement of the laws, was outlined in a statement today by Sherman Cuno, his secretary, as follows:

Jack Daw in Toyland. Chapter 1

Jack Daw, like all other boys, was very fond of toys. So when he heard that the biggest department store in his town had a wonderful toy department, he decided to visit it. The floor walker in this store told him that the moving stairway would take him up to where the toys were.

Jack followed several people to this stairway and was soon riding slowly upwards. He stood perfectly still, but the stairway carried him along quite rapidly. As Jack neared the end of the ride he heard quite a noise behind him. Looking back, he saw Flip running up the stairs.

Flip was Jack's pet dog and he always went where Jack went. "Well, old fellow," said Jack, as the dog reached him, "did you think I was going to leave you behind?" And then Jack heard a loud shout, "This way to toy land!" And looking up Jack saw a wonderful sight. (Continued.)

Adventures of The Twins

BUSTER BEAR'S SPEECH

JUST THEN BUSTER HIMSELF WADDLED AROUND A CORNER

Everybody in Dreamland sat around in a circle.

It was a new kind of school Nancy was having, where everybody could say as much as he liked and what ever he liked.

"Next," called Nancy, "Will Buster Brown Bear please recite."

"Instantly there was a scramble. 'Buster Bear here!' shrieked Jack Jumping Mouse, starting to jump away, forgetting that he was now as big as a kangaroo.

"Buster Bear!" shivered Mike Mole.

"Buster Bear!" shouted Ben Bunny and Wally Woodchuck and everybody.

Nancy laughed. "Wait till you see him!" she said.

Just then Buster himself waddled around a corner, a nice good-natured stuffed bear with shoes button eyes and yarn toe-nails.

"Oh!" said Jack Mouse in a relieved voice.

"Oh!" said everybody. "Oh! Oh! Oh!" And they all sat down again.

"Will you please recite," said Nancy to Buster.

"Certainly!" said Buster, obligingly, with a squeaky voice away down in his chest. "But I can't stay long. My mistress will be looking for me. That's the little girl who bought me in the Dreamland Toy Store. But I'll have time to say a speech about bees."

"Good," said Nancy, tapping to keep order. "Please begin."

"Oh, bees. They live in trees. Thick as fleas. It you please. They leave Me when I sneeze And then I sneeze And shake my knees And fall to the ground. That's all I know," said Buster.

"Goodbye! I must be going. I'll come back any time you want me." And he waddled away on his yawning legs.

"Goodbye, Buster," called the whole Dreamland School after him. "That was a lovely piece."

PILGRIM COMMANDERY CONCERT OF FOLK SONGS

Knights Templars Take Over
Strand Theatre for Evening of Entertainment

Highly Entertaining Program
by Miss Wyman at the Memorial Auditorium

Pilgrim Commandery, Knights Templars, took over the Strand theatre last evening for the entertainment of its members and guests to the number of nearly one thousand and made of the affair one of the most enjoyable social functions imaginable. The evening's program embraced current motion picture attractions, featuring George Arliss in "The Man Who Played God," delightfully interspersed with musical selections by local artists and the Memorial Auditorium.

HON. PERRY D. THOMPSON
Eminent Commander

sonic choir and followed by a delicious buffet luncheon and general dancing in the theatre lobby.

The Strand is particularly well adapted to social affairs of this type, as the beautifully appointed foyer affords ample hall room space without a feeling of congestion and also there is adequate promenade room for those who wish to move about. Attractive indeed were the luncheon serving tables placed upon the stage and set with silver candelabra, red candles and poisettes.

The entertainment program began promptly at 8:15 o'clock and ran as follows, with brief intermissions now and then to allow for relaxation and extended sociability:

- Organ Overture
- Picture: Current Events, Press Topics
- Songs: Mrs. Nellie M. Roberts
- Plano: Mrs. Ethel Dixon Knights
- Artists Picture: "The Man Who Played God"
- Songs: Albert Edmund Brown
- Dancing: Eleanor May Pitts
- Violin: Edward W. Daly
- Dancing: Wilfred Kershaw, accompanist
- Dancing: Doris Master
- Selections: Masonic Choir

Throughout this program was thoroughly enjoyable and of such unusually high grade as to deny opportunity for special comment. Under the excellent leadership of Albert Edmund Brown, the Masonic choir attained great success, but this was just one of many good things provided for the Templars and their guests.

General dancing commenced at 11 o'clock and continued until 1 a. m., as first officer of the commandery, Hon. Perry D. Thompson was in entire charge of the affair and aided by competent committees was wholly responsible for its success. Assisting committees embraced the following:

- Tickets: Charles P. Frederick, Frank
P. Dobson, Edson K. Humphrey, Augustus P. Sacco, George N. Shiny, Ora W.
Harris, Albert Ludwig, Harry Fleming, Lorenzheim, Donald M. Cameron, Albert D. Milliken, Charles B. Cooke,

A very entertaining concert of folk songs was given at the Memorial auditorium last night by Miss Lorraine Wyman. Miss Wyman's singing of the various folk songs showed intensive study of phraseology and accentuation and also impressed one that she was singing them because she loved them, not for any mercenary purpose.

Before singing the French group, Miss Wyman explained the meaning of the songs, some were sad and some were humorous, but each was characteristic of that part of the country from whence it came. For the first group Miss Wyman appeared in a costume composed of large high white hat, long flowing dress of dull fluff with white collar and rough unfinished shoes, all characteristic of the provinces of France. In this group were also two songs from old Canada. In speaking of these Miss Wyman told of visiting the provinces searching for some of the older peasants who had learned these songs from their fathers by word of mouth for there were no written records of them, and of finding them at last in a quiet old village in the mountains and recording these songs upon a phonograph. As a matter of fact, she said, it was the interest that the phonograph created that enabled the peasants to get over their shyness and sing for her, and in singing their songs were taken to the heart of these characters as well as she could.

In her songs of the Kentucky hills Miss Wyman appeared in a costume of rough homespun, made for her by a woman of that district, and a large sunbonnet.
The latter she threw back on her shoulders when singing as she said the maids of that region usually do, except when exposed to the hot sun. That the people of that district are of English and Irish descent was plainly shown by the songs she sang, the rhythm and the words showing the influence of the old homes of the forefathers of this hardy race.

Miss Wyman's costume for the English group was an old-fashioned, henna colored, hoopskirt and tight bodice as was the dress of that period of English history from which most of her songs were taken. In this group she introduced the Irish song, "I Know My Love," but all the others were from old England.

It was Miss Wyman's intention to create an atmosphere in the minds of the audience of the country of which she was singing and of the life of the people of those countries, for the French is not Paris, but is the humble home of the peasant of the provinces; neither is Montreal or Quebec the place to find the heart of the old French-Canadian.
She asked the audience to consider her not as one at a stage with piano accompaniment but in a poor hut or working in the fields of the country of which she sang.

At no time did she appear to have any difficulty in sending her voice to all parts of the auditorium, but neither did she strain her voice nor did she tempt. She was fully accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Louis Smith whose playing was exceptionally good and added greatly to the effect of her singing.

Practically every seat in the auditorium was filled when Miss Wyman started her concert and it was unanimously agreed that it was a most successful one. It was again agreed that she ever appears in Lowell again she will have no difficulty whatsoever in filling the hall to overflowing.

LECTURE BY MRS. CABOT AT NORMAL SCHOOL

Mrs. Ella Lyman Cabot of the advisory board, state department of education, and the writer of several books on ethics, gave a very instructive lecture at the Normal school this forenoon. To approximately 200 pupils and teachers on the subject of "The Development of Character as Related to Self-Expression."

In opening her lecture Mrs. Cabot said that there are two sides to the question of self-expression; one is the negative side that says to each expression and too little self-control or character, and the other is the side which shows self-expression developed upon a strong character. "For," she said, "everything must have a foundation and a limit. The house must have its walls and its roof, and the person must have a character. Character is necessary to any self-expression; take as an example the boy who goes out for his football team, the nurse, the musician, the teacher. What virtues must each have to do his job? For any one of these people to fail is a disgrace. Self-control, perseverance, self-control, sacrifice, tact, imagination, or sympathy, punctuality, memory, courage, all are necessary for success in any vocation."

Mrs. Cabot then took up the fault that must be corrected before we can really succeed and said that in her opinion procrastination is the worst of them all. "There are two types who procrastinate. The dominating type and the dreamy, easy-going type. The dreamy type is the one who does most of his work at the last minute. He has no understanding of the value of his procrastination. Sometimes it is sickness, again it is lack of sleep, and quite often it is lack of interest in some of the things we must do that causes this fault. With procrastination go other associated faults, such as ordering the house, in work and in mind. Practically the only way to correct this harmful habit is to increase your interest in what you find you are putting off doing from day to day. Get so that instead of dreading to do it and finding nothing in it but a burden, you find that it is easy to do."

"Now we will turn again," said the speaker, "to the positive side of the question. How do virtues help us to express ourselves?" And she answered it herself, saying there are virtues which we can all use every day, and she cited one very excellent example of how a person's virtues lead to success even though the person had no training for work of any kind. The story she told was of a girl whom she personally had known who had been brought up by a well-to-do family. She married and then her husband died leaving her practically destitute with a daughter to support. She finally succeeded in getting a position in one of the large stores in Boston at $3 a week. She went to work with no training whatever but with two well-formed ideas about the work. She would never find fault with anyone above or below her, and she would always appear cheerful. She advanced wonderfully and at the end of two years was receiving over $100 a week as salary for the same job.

With this example of what virtue does for those who have them, Mrs.
Cabot ended her lecture. One of the pupils of the class immediately offered the thanks of the school for her interesting talk as is the custom of the school and the lecture for next week was announced. It will be on "The Value of Dramatics in Child Education" and will be given by Miss Lotta Clark of the Boston Normal School next Wednesday, February 7th, at 2:15 p. m.

LABOR UNIONS FIGHTING ANTI-LABOR BILL

A vigorous fight has been started by the labor leaders in this city and in fact of New England against the passage of the anti-labor bill, which has been presented to the legislature by Representative O'Shea of Worcester.
It was learned today that the Lowell Textile council has sent letters to all the local representatives and secretaries asking them to urge their constituents to prevent the bill from becoming law. In addition to the activity of the local labor movement, the New England conference board of the United Textile Workers of America has also taken up the matter and has sent circulars to all the representatives, secretaries and senators of the commonwealth, asking their support in the defeat of the measure, which calls for the elimination of all labor laws now on the statute books.

John Hanley, chairman of the Lowell Textile council and member of the executive board of the United Textile Workers of America, stated today that the organization he represents is particularly opposed to the bill as it seems to be a drive against the textile operatives. "Of course," he said, "we have not the slightest doubt but that the bill will be thrown in the waste basket with a lot of other foolish bills of its nature, but nevertheless we do not intend to be asleep at the switch."

Mr. Hanley further stated that in his opinion the majority of the Massachusetts legislators are broad-minded enough to see the sense of the bill and the folly of such legislation. "This bill of Rep. O'Shea," he continued, "was thoroughly discussed at the last meeting of the New England conference board of the U.T.W. of A. held recently in Lawrence, and at that time the secretary of all the boards was instructed to send a communication of protest to all the representatives and senators of the state. The 125 delegates present, who represented textile unions from various parts of New England, were also instructed to request their organizations to communicate with the legislators of their respective districts. Mr. O'Shea's bill or any similar law is too drastic and too narrow to be enacted by such a body of men as we have at the state legislature."

WHAT THE WEATHER BUREAU EXPERTS SAY

Snow or rain tonight and tomorrow with warmer weather coming. Is the prediction for the next 24 hours by the weather bureau experts.

Temperatures were higher this morning after another night of raw winds and low mercury readings. The sun tried to stay out during the morning, but the clouds were very most of the day. Low pressure areas to the west and north presage a storm of some kind.

The inch of snow that fell day before yesterday increased January's snowfall to 23 inches, which leaves only 7 1/2 inches needed to equal the greatest January snowfall record in Lowell since the weather bureau was established. For the season the snowfall has increased to 42 1/2 inches. At the same time, January is going into the books as a month below normal in heat, although the departure is not great.

CATHOLIC WOMEN PLAN EXCELLENT PROGRAM

Next Monday evening an entertainment will be given in the Memorial Auditorium under the auspices of the League of Catholic Women of Lowell.
The first part of the entertainment will be old-fashioned dances, in which the small pupils of Miss Charlotte Green will take part. The second part will be assembly singing of some of the old songs, the words of which will be thrown upon a screen so that all present may join in the singing. Miss Charlotte M. Green is in general charge of the dancing and Miss M. Estelle Green will be the accompanist. Mrs.
Aldo Parent has charge of the controlling, which will be very effective.

AT THE STATE ARMORY AN IMPORTANT MOVE

Battery B Will Entertain
Lowell Chamber of Commerce Members.

American Woolen Company to Move Offices From Boston to Shawsheen

Capt. Panof of B battery today sent a cordial invitation to members of the Lowell chamber of commerce to be entertainment guests of the battery-men at their armory on Westford st., on the night of Feb. 13. The invitation has been accepted.

The B Battery boys are planning a program of much interest, with features that ought to delight the visiting business men. The batterymen will provide refreshments and a lively program of entertainment. Details of the program now being arranged by the soldier boys are to be announced shortly.

The invitation from B battery is issued as a tender of appreciation for the chamber's efforts to arouse more interest in battery affairs and to promote successful military events of the sort that will increase battery activities as an organization and strengthen interest in the battery ideals and as an important institution ready in times of need.

The two boys were arrested last night by Inspector Walsh and Officer Patrick Connolly after they had broken into the tenement of Miss Eva Stonish, 14 Winter street, and stolen $55 in money. Of this amount, $44 has been recovered, the rest having been sent by the defendants. The peculiar part of the case is the fact that the boys were out on bail following their appeals from sentences to the Lyman and Shirley schools. During the trial Friday, they were said to have confessed to five breaks in the vicinity of North street.

On Thursday evening they were arrested by Officer Heenan as they were going through the premises of the Lowell Decorating Co. in Market st., making their sixth break within a month. They were released in bonds of $500 each after taking appeals and ordered to keep the peace until their appeals could be acted on.

When they were brought in again this morning on a new charge of breaking and entering, their cases were continued until Feb. 2, additional bonds being fixed at $500 each, making a total now of $300.

A four hundred pair telephone cable on Bridge street, serving approximately 1500 subscribers in Cambridge, was put out of commission yesterday when water flooded the manholes and ducts between Third street and Lakeview avenue.

A crew of "trouble shooters" was sent to the scene of the break with gasoline pumps and as soon as the water was cleared from the manhole at Lakeview avenue and Second street the break was located and repair work started. It was found necessary to run a new cable in place of the damaged section and as there are 500 wires to be spliced at each end of the break this is a tremendous task. The repair men worked all day yesterday and a night last night and the work is expected to have all circuits working late this afternoon or this evening. At present the cable is still working but at the manhole near Third street it is attempted to clear the water from the hole although no damage has been done to the cables there by water up to the present time.
